PEERING at microscopic matter becomes an easier task with the aid of a fluorescent light source, over 30 laboratory technologists, directors and doctors learned at a four-day Microscopy Seminar held in Walnut Creek last week. The session, which drew microscope users from throughout the state, ended Sunday.

Ring in a New DIFFERENT '63!

By BERNICE SCHARLACH

A GERM-FREE '63!

All good wishes for happy, healthy conformity! Like the poem about the antiseptic baby and the prophylactic pup, ours is a protected, sheltered Suburbia given all the benefits that love and a comfortable income can produce.

LOOK AT ALL THE HAPPY CHILDREN in the school yards.

Each one is clad in his new nylon quilted jacket with the hood neatly buttoned under the collar. (Is yours convertible or not convertible?)

Each one has an exciting list of presents to rattle off during sharing time: "I got a racing bike . . . a Barbie doll . . . a wig like my big sister's . . . A Cape Canaveral missile set . . . just an old electric toothbrush . . ."

If you can't spot your own child in the group, just pick out any one . . . they all dress the same, eat the same, play the same on react the same.

LOOK AT THE MOTHERS talking on the phones . . . each one sits, relaxed, over a cup of coffee (black, less calories) in the family room of a redwood ranch-type.

The conversations are all alike: "Now that the mad rush is over . . . your name came up as someone we could rely on to help . . . we're all anxious to do our share for the children . . . it really won't take too much of your time . . . it's such a worthy cause . . . Parents' Club, March of Dimes, Cub Scouts . . . youth fellowship . . . potlucks . . ."

LOOK AT THE community leaders: "We must expand our program for youth . . . What we hope to achieve, before the year is over, is a new community center . . . When we get our general plan we'll be able to evaluate the necessity of such a development . . . The number of gas stations and liquor stores in this community is all out of proportion . . ."

Pick out any leader, put him in any community, the problems are all the same.

HOW CAN WE ring the "New" in Suburbia? Maybe a drive to get a school for every pool? . . . or exchange some "foreign" students (with their families) from Oakland or San Francisco instead of (or in addition to) getting them from overseas?

Or, by compensations for the fact that a germ-free Suburbia can be a very sterile existence.

1963 Gets Off To 'Cool' Start

The bitter cold in Orinda was relieved by a trace of rain in the dawn of yesterday. None-the-less, 1963 started off mighty "cool!"

Pay Hike Puts Supervisors on Equal Status

When County Supervisors Thomas Coll and James Kenny begin their new terms of office they will receive a $100 a month pay raise putting them on equal footing with the other three supervisors.

This will mark the first time in four years that all five members of the county board of supervisors will be getting the same $800 monthly salary.

The difference in paychecks came about because of a provision in the state constitution which forbade salary increases for elected county officers during their terms.

SUPERVISORS Joseph Silva and Mel Nielsen were re-elected in 1960. The legislature set their salaries at $800 effective when their new terms began January 1, 1961.

Supervisor Edmund Linscheid, first elected in 1960, took office the same day as Silva and Nielsen, and he too, has been receiving the higher salary.

But Kenny and Coll were in the middle of their four-year terms, so they had to wait until 1963 to get the extra $100.

This situation will not happen again, because California's voters last November approved a constitutional amendment which allows county supervisors to get pay raises at the same time, even in mid-term.

Depositions Sought by McCunn Lawyer

Drummond McCunn, former Contra Costa Junior College district superintendent who was fired last June, will seek depositions from all five trustees involved in the controversial action.

Notice of intention to seek the depositions was filed in superior court Friday by McCunn's attorney, Richard D. Sanders.

McCunn has filed a suit against the district, asking for salary and other benefits he claims are due to him under the remaining 37 months of his unexpired contract.

These claims have been denied by district trustees.

The notice in superior court says Sanders will seek the depositions January 16-17 in his Pittsburg office.

Fire Commissioner Is 'Fired' After 12 Years of Service

A New Year Cometh

Zach Montgomery Is Not Named by Nielsen

By JANE PUTNAM

There was an emotion-packed meeting of the Orinda County Fire Protection District commissioners last Thursday night at the main fire station in the village. Zachary Montgomery "resigned." As reported in The Sun last week, he was not reappointed by the County Board of Supervisors.

What the story did not say was that Supervisor Mel Nielsen had requested that Montgomery be replaced.

Montgomery is a successful businessman in the title insurance business, and his post as fire commissioner was an honorary job with no pay, (except for a small expense account).

A RESIDENT of Orinda for 14 years, he served with honor and distinction as a fire commissioner for 12 years. It was not easy to verbally give his resignation to the other four members of the commission.

"We serve at the pleasure of the County Board of Supervisors. Apparently, one supervisor was displeased with my services and it is with regret that I advise the board that my term of office expires January 1," said Montgomery.

The full quorum accepted his resignation "with very, very much regret." President C. W. Langridge, who served on the board with Montgomery for a decade, presided at the public meeting.

When questioned as to why Montgomery was not reappointed, Supervisor Mel Nielsen stated: "I have my own personal reasons for not making the reappointment."

THE COMMISSIONERS expressed their appreciation for Montgomery's long and loyal service. However, the edict had come "from the top," and there was no alternative.

Historically, each member of the board of supervisors makes his recommendation for fire commissioners in his district. The other supervisors follow his recommendation in district appointments.

Nielsen, of course, is the supervisor from District 2, in which the OCFPD lies.

ONE COMMISSIONER reported that Nielsen had told him that he would take "sole responsibility" for not reappointing Montgomery.

It was a well-known fact that Nielsen and Montgomery did not get along, stated the commissioner. "Nielsen said that he could not work with anyone on the board who would not work with him."

For the last two years, Montgomery was elected president of the Contra Costa County Fire Commissioners Association. He was re-elected twice, and his reelection was expected for a third term, according to a member.

HE WILL be ineligible to run this year, however, as he is no longer a commissioner.

"In going before the county board, as president of the association, it was incumbent upon me to express ideas and opinions which were sometimes contrary to the supervisors," said Montgomery. "When you have principle to stand up for, it's worth fighting for. I didn't think we were having a popularity contest."

HIS FELLOW-commissioners said that there had been some "differences of feelings and opinions" with Montgomery through the years; "but that is natural. There was no dissension among the board. First thing like this that has ever happened."

"Internal problems are something new to us. Turnover of commissioners was so small in our district that we have been complimented by Martinez."

MONTGOMERY FOUND out that he had not been reappointed by phoning the county and asking that the list of appointees be read to him. He never received any written or oral notification of his termination of duty — except what he read in the newspapers or heard "through the grapevine."

Montgomery campaigned for General Wallace of Danville when he ran against Mel Nielsen for supervisor.

Montgomery has long been interested in fire protection. As a boy, he was volunteer fire chief of Canyon. During World War II, he was in charge of fire inspection services for the Army in Anchorage, Alaska.

During his undergraduate days at St. Mary's College, (class of 1940) Montgomery edited The Lafayette Sun.

FOR 14 YEARS, he has participated in Orinda's civic affairs. He is a past president of the Orinda Association and was chairman of its civic affairs committee.

In the flood of 1958, during his term as president of the Orinda Association, the county superior court turned down a suit filed for flood damage to the fire house.

Montgomery, through Lafayette attorney Robert Eschleman, filed an appeal to the state appellate court. The decision was in favor of the taxpayers, who were awarded $13,000.

ANOTHER issue during Montgomery's administration was the location of Camino Pablo. It was proposed to go past Orinda School, through the village.

The Orinda Association board, under his leadership, was instrumental in convincing the county that it should bypass the village.

FIRE COMMISSIONER Gilbert Earle and Montgomery worked on the Kroeger Survey in the district. This was to get uniform hours, wages and working conditions in the district.

There is a rumor that the present board is considering converting to an autonomous district. Bill AB 1355 passed in 1959 permits the conversion five years from passage, or in 1965.

REASON FOR the conversion is because some local boards are resentful of authority taken away from them by the county.

"The main issue before us now is a new location for the main firehouse," stated President Langridge.

Edwin H. Clark, a food broker, was appointed in Montgomery's place. Clark's appointment, as with all commissioners, is for four years as of January 1.

Clark lives at 37 Charles Hill Circle. He has been an Orinda resident for 12 years; and lived in Lafayette for five years before that.

A few weeks prior to the supervisors' action, R. W. Aitchison resigned due to the press of his personal business. S. M. Haslett, III, was named to fill Aitchison's unexpired term.

Evaluation Program is Board's Subject

The evaluation program as to how to improve instruction with the school was the major topic of the Moraga School Board of Trustees, Wednesday night. President Rex Collings, Jr., presided over the meeting at the Camino Pablo School, which began at 7:30 p.m. and lasted past midnight.

BORN IN A YEAR of the October Flood, The McCunn Affair, the failure of the County Park Bonds, this child of 1962 looks forward to happier headlines in '63 and the years to come.

There is much in store for him. At the age of seven, he will ride rapid transit trains. John Muir Hospital will have opened its doors by his third birthday, should he become ill. He may go boating on Lafayette Reservoir. Before he is four years old, almost 20,000 senior citizens will be his neighbors on the 'old' Dollar Ranch. Lafayette will either incorporate or be annexed by his hometown of Walnut Creek. Even Orinda may have a mayor by the time he is seven.

Caldecott bore No. 3 will be outmoded by the time he drives a car. As a youth, he will camp out in an expanded Mt. Diablo State Park. And someday, Rheem and Moraga will probably be known as EITHER Rheem OR Moraga.

2 Lots Will Be Less Than 1/2 Acre

A request to divide two lots less than one-half acre was granted by the county board of supervisors Wednesday.

Inga-Britt Ringrose was applicant and owns the property. It is located on lot 349, Haciendas Del Orinda, fronting 382 feet on the west side of Camino Sobrante. The lots are about 72 feet south of Noria Drive.

Appearing on behalf of Mrs. Ringrose was Robert Eschleman, Lafayette attorney. No one appeared in protest at the public hearing.

Protesting via letter was the Hacienda Homes Improvement Association. The letter was signed by President Murray MacNeill.

The planning commission, by a vote of six yes and one abstent, recommended approval.

According to the Orinda General Plan, lots must have a one-half acre minimum.

One of the lots will have a square footage of 21,539; the other, 21,578 square feet.

Supervisors Won't Press For Bond Vote Change

Seventeen state law and constitution changes proposed by County Administrator J. P. McBrien were endorsed by the board of supervisors this week.

Another amendment would allow the supervisors to decide whether a judicial district with more than 40,000 people should become a municipal court district. Now the change is relatively automatic.

In trying for supervisors' support for the bond change, McBrien argued that state bond measures already become law if they are approved by more than 50 per cent of those voting in a statewide election.

He pointed to the county's last attempt at floating a bond issue which failed last June. The $7.5 million park bond proposal received a healthy majority of the votes cast, but did not get the required 66 2/3 per cent.

"WE'RE 25 years behind in capital improvements," said McBrien. "The only way to get them is with deferred financing, and the only way to get that is with bonds."

Supervisor Tom Coll, arguing that schools and cities would want similar privileges, said, "We may be opening a Pandora's box."

The amendment would make court revenues rather than general county property taxes the initial source for financing municipal and judicial district courts," McBrien explained.

"SURPLUS revenues could be divided between a county and cities in proportion to population in incorporated and unincorporated areas," he concluded.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

Anyone for Leftovers?

AN EVEN sadder sight than the last tree left alone in an abandoned Christmas tree lot is the one relegated to the burning pile but two days after Christmas. The one we saw out Rheem way was spilling tears of tinsel all over the place!

That's the way the Christmas cookies crumble, if you have any left. All through the house w/the hard candy remnants joining the broken baubles in a Hansel & Gretel trail from one room to another . . . & who could vacuum w/all those feet around all the time?

SOME PEOPLE keep Christmas for a long time. The Dr. Charles Van Dynes (we saw Tinita trailing home their tree Just Before) don't rush into things until the 24th, but then they keep the tree for sometime after & their Twelfth Night party guests are given the treat of a green tree on Epiphany, the day that officially closes the Christmas season.

BUT LUCIE HUPP takes the cake! She once had a fully-decorated tree up through April & it still looked good! What's more, the boughs of green draped over the Hupp living room rafters really look like they belong there! We usually manage to get our decorations down by the time Cupid bows in for Valentine's Day.

MERRILY, we jingle along: Dentist Gene Garbarino getting into Ogden's at closing time Xmas Eve for a pick-up of pkgs. & just making it! . . . Ann Lincoln, home from college in Arizona, putting the last finishes to green gift boxes behind the counter.

At Orinda Store, Frank Wright bustling clerk Neil a Very Merry one . . . Felt Christmas trees dolling up the driers at Sunshine Center . . . Silver bells & cockle shells shimmering from the tubbed trees all over town & a truly yuley good deed done by the local Girl Scouts & Thank You!

THAT CRAZY mixed-up Plaza sign getting right in the frantic spirit w/its letters reading "Open MONADY through Friday" . . . so weren't we all tongue-tied or talking double-talk at that point just before the wonderful Silent Night came to calm us all down?

BUD LOUGHMAN, who was to play Santa to the Zappettinis' family party (passing out candy canes) passed the buck along w/a white beard to his houseguest, bachelor Lloyd Cobbedick visiting here from Mexico. The two going over backyard fences in the Hacienda Circle area looked quite a picture, especially if you were too full of cheer, fruit cake, fondue, turkey, ham, etc. . . . & won't a simple meat loaf taste good for a change?

SAY, Seabury, David, how did you like that Danish Cheese? It's Tybo from Copenhagen & Black's carries it with or without caraway seeds & you're welcome!

CHRISTMAS card candid: Bachelor Les Ruf at Orinda Store filling a fine wicker basket full of goodies, goodies & wine, the better to dine in old friends in the spirit of Christmas, a very nice gesture, we'd say. But ladies aren't the only ones whose heads are full of feathers on Christmas Eve about 5:30 . . . There was Les proving just as absent-minded having lost his crisp greens in the store & we DO mean lettuce. They turned up in the store, mid-floor. Dollar bills, darlin', not escarole!

SIGHTS Delightful: Henry & Jan Soubielle & his mother Mrs. Josephine Soubielle calling on friends in manner ceremonial style—sporting gold paper crowns, ribbioned gifts & singing "We Three Kings of Orinda are" . . .

The three wise men w/hands down on Christmas cards this year, w/the exception, of course, of the Holy Mother & Child who'll always be the favorite, Thank God. But anyway it reminds us of the kid at a corner store (what corner store?) who announced to his pals, "Aw, I hafta play one of those three wise guys . . ."

IN THE POST Office, Helen Vurek looking like Santa's helper, all red & green & wreathed in tired smiles & patience w/last-minute people like Mrs. M. still mailing East on the 24th . . . Yes, there were a lot of half-baked Moms around the 11th hr . . . including you, who, still baking to keep the diminishing cookie jar full for dropper-inners?

Happy Noodles, Everyone!

LEAVE IT to Californians to change that deer to Donner. Everything mentioned Donner & Blitzen, but reliable sources say the deer is DONDER. Just because we're now the biggest State in the Union we don't have to try to steal Santa's thunder. I mean Donner . . . Didja know that when Clement C. Moore dashed off "The Night Before Christmas" (to the delight of all children) he was ashamed to have his university colleagues learn he was writing childish poetry? So he invented another name for author of the famous poem.

OODLES of noodles in Grace Hanks' Very Gump tree which looked like tres expensive porcelain & should we tell? It was a styrofoam tree cone smothered & covered w/alphabet soup noodles, studded here & there w/bow-knots & pinwheels & gorgeous!

THE COOKIE tree at Orinda Library surrounded by Winnie The Pooh & storybook characters was a delectable sight. The only trouble is that little fingers found their way to the cookies & butterscotch balls & left bare spots in the tree that, hearsay has it, was put together four years ago.

A tabletop tree at the library fluttered little birds of peanuts winged w/red velvet bows, good edible idea for a kiddies' room . . . & even the pristine floor of ye public lib produces surprises . . . One cold night, a baby slug was inching its slippery way across the floor & under a reading table: A half-eaten fortune cookie. "Help, I'm being held captive by two bookworms."

SPGKG. of bookworms, little Page Phillips, 2½ yrs. old, perusing her first primers & looking like one of those wispy-haired Dream Doll Christmas tree angels . . . & speaking of angels, the Butler brood, all four of 'em, were out shopping w/Mama & showing off their new Christmas pooch, a charming wire-haired pup named "Jing Jing" barely visible from his cozy place in a shopping satchel.

DOES anybody serve Tom & Jerries anymore or have they gone the way of all lukewarm libations . . . ? Try your egg nog the way Louise & Ed Rich make it—a generous pint of icecream floating on top to keep it ever cold for even the tarest guest.

BIRTHDAY present for Hall Clement, tickets to the Ray Charles' concert . . . More Teensville reps at the Berk. Comm. Theater concert were Mike Yedidia, John Den Dulk . . . Rick Hale, Mike Winfree . . . Kathy Miller, Barbara Irving, etc. . .

LIKE A New Yorker cover: Ivy Drive sector w/all the same rooftops blazing lights in the sameness outline . . . A captivating Snowman on somebody's lawn fashioned from a cactus bush sprayed white. . . .

The midnight Mass procession of cars starting uphill Santa Maria Way early as 11:15 looking, from our window, like a candlelight procession of choir boys . . . On Ardith Drive, a beautiful big Star of Bethlehem brilliant against the black night.

ON THE PARTY trail: Leaving the good piano playing & the champagne picnic behind them for the later-stayers, Celia & Bob Luthey, Burt & Blanche Brody departing the Jerry Dochins' party to go home & finish gift wrapping . . .

Betty Bowman, Madeline & Ed Goodbread bearing a chafing dish dip, Kitty Schwarck, Esther Johnsons, the Ed O'Reillys among the localites turning up in the threshold for Ed & Inez (Lillie Maeshner's Open House last Sunday. Parking places at a premium).

SHADES OF BRIGADOON: Chris Romine & Judy Howes out galavanting w/their gifts & looking like they were walking through the heather instead of the tulle fog in their handsome outfits. Floor-length clan plaid wool fringed skirts w/stoles to match. Chris made 'em . . . Tiny Tony Dalton dashing from Phair's in her "Me to Me" present—a Jaguar-XKE, ice blue & that loooooong in front, zoocooooom! . . . Lance Barden out breaking in his refurbished antique Metz on the Miramonte grounds.

MORE PARTY patter: The David Colemans, Rich Stampleys, some of the The Sociables turning up at the John Van Dynes to view the towering ceiling-high tree under which nestled the family pet cat oblivious to all the babble & bubble.

As Happy as Kings...

THE FUTURE'S full of a number of things for the junior Rex Collings of Moraga whose every phase of family, church and community life includes plans for bright new growth.

START with the myriad accomplishments and mammoth plans of the Moraga School District of which Rex is a member and president of the board of trustees. Add the Collings' devotion to Moraga Valley Presbyterian Church. They are charter members of the church started two years ago and duly excited about the new building to grace an eight-acre site near Miramonte (and to be completed by the end of 1963). Rex serves here as a member of the session and building committee.

MORAGA'S FUTURE looks much rosier too, since Rex served on the Study Group in the recently completed revision of the Moraga General Plan. The community group was particularly pleased in the elimination of the massive controlled manufacturing area formerly planned.

An intense interest in the area they've called home since moving here four years ago, has made Rex and Marcella Collings mainstays of Moraga. Not content to simply beautify their own backyard, they are eager to help in planning for the community as a whole, from schools to civic and urban growth.

KING OF THIS clan is Rex Collings, Jr., a native Michigamite, who moved West in 1931, schooled in South Pasadena and later entered the University of California at Berkeley where he won his law degree and served as editor-in-chief of the California Law Review during his senior law year. He married the Connecticut-born Marcella in 1948.

A professor of law at Boalt Hall on the Berkeley campus since 1958, Collings teaches criminal law and procedure and marital property. His distinguished legal career includes private practice in Los Angeles, service with the Criminal Division of the Department of Justice, Washington (final position there being chief of the General Crimes section) and teaching law at New York University School of Law where he served as editor of the Annual Survey of American Law.

TALL and broad-shouldered with the rugged frame of an All-American fullback, it is not surprising that Collings carved out another distinguished career in the U.S. Marine Corps for six years during and after World War II.

Enlisting as a private and attaining the rank of captain, he saw service in the Central Pacific participating in the invasions of Roi-Namur, Saipan, Tinian, Iwo Jima and the occupation of Japan.

Future plans include plants, too, for 24 La Salle Drive where Rex and Marcella enjoy the pleasurable task of landscaping their new home (second Moraga house) situated high on a hill overlooking Rheem Valley. Ardent record fans and inveterate readers, both swim and enjoy the various activities of a growing family. A former officer of Moraga Parents' Club, Marcella still actively participates in the group and is assured, since the advent of Philip (14 months), that she'll be on the membership roster for some time to come.

AS FOR Baby Philip, he can't WAIT for a first trike so he can join his brother and sisters on wheels. They're all ardent bike riders! Candice, 11, plays violin in the new Camino Pablo School orchestra and is a member of the church's junior choir as is sister Rexanne, 8, an elfish Brownie who has the special distinction of having been born on her father's birthday. Hence the special name.

Rodney, 7, runs an electric train and roams the great outdoors "in search of places to get banged up or cut in a fall, sometimes requiring emergency stitches.

Future plans also call for a well-stocked first-aid kit, boys being boys and . . . SEMPER FIDELIS!

Evangelist Will Hold a Crusade

Dr. Porter L. Barrington, Texas-born evangelist-pastor of 30 years, is slated to hold an evangelistic crusade from January 13-27 in the National Guard Armory, Walnut Creek.

The meetings, in which 20 local churches will participate, will be 7:30 p.m., Monday through Saturday; and 7 p.m., Sundays.

"An eloquent, dynamic, forceful speaker, Dr. Barrington is noted for his sound, uncompromising Bible preaching, which, in his successful campaigns across the country, has appealed to young and old alike," says the Rev. Gray Lambert, pastor of the Suburban Bible Church, Lafayette.

THE LOCAL minister further disclosed that his pulpit guest has spent 13 years as a pastor, 11 shepherding the First Baptist Church of Van Nuys to more than a 3,700 membership.

During World War II Dr. Barrington established a Christian Servicemen's center in the heart of Hollywood, raising more than $90,000 there in two years to service more than a million boys. In excess of 19,000 servicemen made decisions for Christ through his efforts, Pastor Lambert revealed.

The evangelist will be assisted in his local series of meetings by the musical ministry of John Webb and a combined area choir.

Where's the Fire?

The Orinda Fire Department answered the following calls this week:

FRIDAY—8:20 a.m., Fish Ranch Road near the tunnel, rescue of man pinned under auto in accident; 12:45 p.m., 38 Linda Vista, smell of smoke; 12:50 p.m., 28 La Espiral, rescue—first aid.

SATURDAY—1:16 p.m., 14 El Toyonal, rescuistator; 1:47 p.m., 72 Camino Sobrante, leaky water heater; 6:14 p.m., 73 Orchard Road, natural gas odor.

MONDAY—12:38 p.m., 21 Via Las Cruces, first aid.

Scholberg Has Car in Show

Paul Scholberg of 2 El Nido Court, Orinda, will display his personalized car at the eighth annual San Mateo Auto Show today through Sunday.

The car, a red 1939 Ford four-door sedan, is powered by a modern V-8 engine and has a chrome undercarriage, chrome wheels and a black custom interior. All gas lines and wiring are of aircraft materials.

Other attractions of the show: The Silhouette, a wedge-shaped futuristic auto with a hand-formed body and clear plastic bubble top; owned by Bill Cushenberry of Monterey.

The Seattle-ite and the DePallo, seven-foot experimental models by the Ford Motor Company's advance planning division.

A rare Tipo 151 Maserati racing coupe built for millionaire sportsman Briggs Cunningham; owned by B. H. Spencer of Hillsborough.

A 306 MPH streamliner built for Bonneville.

Davis Honor Roll Names 4 Orindans

Four Orindans were among the 52 Bay Area students who were placed on the dean's honor list for the fall semester at the University of California, Davis.

There names and majors are as follows: Dorothy A. Christie, animal husbandry; Clyde W. MacDonald, engineering; Charlotte A. Kimball, animal husbandry; and Barbara J. Bergen, mathematics.

Hats Off To...

The Rev. John L. Dodson St. Mark's Methodist

LET THERE be light in the world in the year 1963 for all men like Reverend John L. Dodson, minister of St. Mark's Methodist Church.

The young minister whose friendliness glows like candlelight, enjoys people to the utmost, sharing with them, listening, and in particular, the discussion groups in which so many of his church members eagerly participate.

A NATIVE Oaklander, Reverend Dodson attended the University of California to earn his B.A. degree in social welfare. Then to religious studies at the Garrett Seminary on the Northwestern University campus at Evanston, Illinois, where he met wife Sue, an Ohio Wesleyan graduate. She was pursuing special studies on a Danforth Fellowship from the University of Minneapolis which won her an M.A. from Northwestern in higher education and religion. For two years after, she served as director of the Northwestern Y.W.C.A.

Reverend Dodson is chairman of the board of directors of the Wesley Foundation of Berkeley, a Methodist student movement. Together with Mrs. Dodson, he directs summer trail camps into the High Sierras. By back-pack or burro, the trips are popular with those in his church group and also Wesley Fellowship, college-age kindred spirits who like to climb, camp and get close to the great outdoors.

SOON TO START his fourth year in Orinda, the Reverend Dodson looks at his fine new church at 451 Moraga Way and then reflects back to July, 1959 and the inception of St. Mark's Methodist in this area. Literally starting from scratch, Sunday services were then conducted at Miramonte High School with meetings and discussion groups held in private home.

THE DODSONS are parents of two sons who, by some heavenly design, managed to both choose March 19 as their birth date. The boys with the same birthday are Mark, 29 months and Richard, nine months. The Reverend Dodson and his family live in the parsonage at 143 Fiesta Circle.

THIS BUDDHA'S SMILE may light on you, if you accompany Sun Publisher Herman Silverman and his wife Eleanor on The Sun Orient Holiday in April. This BOAC photograph is of a typical street scene in Tokyo.

Sun 'Travel Night' Is Wednesday

Films of the Far East will be the highlight of a special Sun Travel Night Wednesday at the Acalanes High School cafeteria. The entire community is invited to attend the 8 p.m. program, courtesy of The Sun.

The first of many Sun "nights" planned for 1963, the evening is designed to entertain, educate and enlighten the entire family, Sun Publisher-Editor Herman Silverman said this week.

Silverman, who recently toured the Far East on a press trip, will give a short talk during the evening. With his wife, Eleanor, publisher Silverman has traveled to Mexico, Alaska, Canada, Tahiti and French Polynesia, Hawaii and Europe.

AT THE SAME time, Silverman has announced that reservations for The Sun Orient Holiday are coming in at a rapid rate.

"We are gratified that so many will be able to take advantage of our economy prices for a truly deluxe trip," Silverman said.

Because the 20-day trip, which starts April 18, is publicized in The Sun Newspapers, the tour price is substantially lower than similar deluxe trips offered in other travel brochures, he explained. "The savings are passed on to the tourist," he added.

WHILE AN economy price covers transportation and accommodations throughout the tour, the tourist is not "economized" out of any of the conveniences he may expect on a deluxe tour. "We have found, for example, that it is poor economy to try to save dollars by selecting second class accommodations," Silverman said.

"This is because accommodations are actually the smaller part of total expenses in a trip of this length.

"Therefore, only better rooms in superior hotels have been selected," he said.

The Sun Orient Holiday also covers a number of frequently "hidden costs" in its low price of $1429: all connecting transportation in the tour, the services of an English-speaking guide or driver/guide for sightseeing, all luggage transfers and all gratuities connected with transfers, as well as all service charges and taxes levied by hotels.

IN ADDITION to the basic 20-day tour, The Sun offers tours of both greater and lesser length. For only $1171.50, the tourist with less than 20 days at his disposal may sign up for the 15-day Japan Holiday, which includes all but the Hong Kong leg of the Orient Holiday.

Extensions available range from a four-day stopover in Hawaii, with accommodations at the Princess Kaiulani Hotel, for only $68, to a 22-day extension throughout southeast Asia and the South Pacific for only $802. There is even a "round the world" option for only $278 additional air fare.

Detailed information on the basic Orient Holiday and any of the many options available, may be obtained by calling The Sun at 284-4444 or 934-5000.

Colorful brochures may be obtained at Sun offices, and other information will be available at The Sun Travel Night on Wednesday.

Big Increase In Realtor Sales Is Estimated

A whopping 25 per cent increase in home and lot sales will be recorded on the multiple listing service of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board during 1962, estimated Roger Jernigan, board executive vice-president.

Jernigan, without the benefit of the final figures for December estimated that about $46 million was involved in sales, compared to about $36 million last year and about $32 million the year before.

Since the multiple listing service handles an estimated 75 per cent of all such sales in the central county area, well over $60 million in sales were recorded during 1962, Jernigan estimated.

It was estimated that more than 3000 homes were sold in the area during the year, which is close to twice the number of homes in Gregory Gardens, a well-known subdivision in Pleasant Hill.

"We believe that 1962 has been a good year for most realtors and it has exceeded expectations."

He noted that the board will progress during the next year under Ray Henry, elected president to succeed J. N. Smith.

Famed SF Quartet's Free Rehearsal Is Next Friday

A full-scale dress rehearsal of the famed San Francisco Operatic Quartet, admission-free, will be held for the public next Friday, January 11, at 8 p.m. in the Acalanes High School auditorium.

Here is the program to be presented on January 11:

Rigoletto by Giuseppe Verdi; Duet from Don Juan by Mozart; Duet from La Gioconda by Amilcare Ponchielli; Trio from The Stolen Bucket by J. Burgmeier.

Duet from Lucia di Lammermore by Gaetano Donizetti; Trio from I Lombardi by Verdi; Trio from The Daughter of the Regiment by Donizetti; Barcarolle from Tales of Hoffman by Offenbach; Quartet from A School for Husbands by E. Wolf Ferrari.

AFTER THE intermission, a condensed version of the Barber of Seville by Gioacchino Rossini will be presented.

Offered will be a new English translation by Nino Comel.

Richard Wahn will play Count Almaviva and Richard Frook, Figaro, the barber.

Catherine Paul and Donna Petersen are both accomplished in the roles of Bertha, the housemaid, and Rosina, and announcement of their selection will be made at program time.

Miramonte Mirror

Basketball Team, Take Bows--Tops at Tourney

By JACKIE EDENHOLM (Karen is skiing)

This year our basketball team was invited to the Healdsburg tournament. About five schools were represented from different areas around the Bay. Miramonte came out on top, being undefeated, to win the tournament championship.

Saturday night there was quite a little rooting section going for Miramonte at the tournament. Among those in the small gymnasium encouraging our team were Karen Stafford, Larry Lahman, Frank Feldman, Rick Cannon, Sue Fernsten and Dean Hilger, John Lackey and Jack Osborne.

Before long it was noticed that the cheering sounded a little louder than our rooting section was big. The answer to the mystery was that Healdsburg and some of the other schools who had been eliminated from the championship in the previous games were yelling for Miramonte, also.

Recently Young Life had a special meeting at Mike Lynn's restaurant. The meeting was held so that Young Life members and anyone who wanted to come could get together to sing some Christmas carols. An enjoyable time was had by all.

The school week before the holidays was an appropriate time for the Christmas program at Miramonte put on by the music and drama departments. Lawrence Anderson, our music director, should be commended for a very fine performance on the parts of the concert band, girls' chorus, a cappella choir and the orchestra. Chris Combs gave a reading entitled "The Innkeeper."

The junior prom, MISTY CITY, was a big success. Mimi Loomis and Paul Locklin, Barbie Brush and Clint Dewitt, Byrnes Thraillkill and Gary Rose, Mike Bartlett and Mary Hansen, Doug Knudsen and Carol Ferguson and Lonnie Freeman and Don Navone are a few of the couples who had a wonderful time at the junior prom.

A few of those who didn't go to the prom were at a party at the home of Hap Parks. Some of those there were Hap and Joyce Thompson, Bill Cooper and Chrissy Voll, Jay Grilli and Chris Romer, Bob Miller and Donna Peake, Steve Stuckert, Bob Lyman and John Reilly.

Kathy Knudsen found the holidays an excellent time for a tea. Some of the many, many girls at Kathy's home who were having fun talking and sampling some of the delicious refreshments were Joni Johnson, Diane Moss, Carol Thompson, Marilyn Smith, Sue Fernsten, Mary Hansen, Byrnes Thraillkill, Janice Catalica, Barb Bagley, Toni Brothers, Carol Ferguson, Liz Finley, Cindy Gravelle, Mimi Loomis, Neba Jordan, Carol Nelson, Bonnie Palmer, Jan Schneider and Alison Stampely. Everyone was glad to see Carol Thompson, who was home for the holidays from Orme Ranch, Arizona, where she has been going to school.

A few of Miramonte's ski-fanciers took off to the snow country regardless of the weather reports. Karen Stafford and Katy Jones are two good examples. Katy and Karen spent the two weeks of vacation at Squaw Valley. There wasn't much snow for a while, but the girls were not to come home disappointed because Mother Nature finally obliged them with some of those little soft white things.

During the holidays Larry Lahman had a party, also. Those there were Donna Peake and Bob Miller, Chris Walstrom and Doug Dermitt, Mimi Loomis and Paul Locklin, Roxie Smith and Bruce Nickerson, Mike Bartlett and Mary Hansen, Larry Towers and Chris Vota, Barbie Brush and Clint Dewitt, Crissy Voll and Bill Cooper, and Chris Combs and the TELEPHONE!!!

Now that the holidays are over and everyone is getting used to school again, we can remind a few forgetful people—FINALS ARE COMING!!!

Today is our first league basketball game with Piedmont. We beat them at football . . . and we can do it in basketball, too. So let's see everyone at the game!

Brookwood 2 Ready in March

Orinda's first and second multiple units will be ready for occupancy in 1963. Both apartments are on Brookwood Road. However, they are being built by different builders.

Brookwood Apartments No. 1 are being built by Peter Mattei, San Francisco builder. The 52 one- and two-bedroom units are now being rented. As of the first of the year, Mattei states that the first occupants will move in.

BROOKWOOD No. 1 was originally scheduled for a November opening. However, storm damage delayed construction. James R. Lucas, Orinda architect recently elected to the board

Board Declares Risky, Moraga Camino Pablo Rd.

Increasing development in the vicinity of Camino Pablo School will be a major topic of discussion at a meeting of the Moraga School District trustees Wednesday night at 7:35 at the Rheem School.

The only route to the school, Camino Pablo, is a sub-standard county road. It is less than 16 feet wide. Its narrowness does not permit a white line down the middle, which is an added hazard in fog, according to Superintendent William Knight.

AT ITS LAST meeting, the school board adopted a resolution to "vigorously oppose" more subdivisions in the immediate vicinity of the school until the road is "improved substantially."

The board directed copies of its resolution be sent to the county board of supervisors, county planning commission and staff, the county department of public works, the Utah Construction Co., and builders active in the vicinity.

Developer Russ Bruzzone is planning a new 77-home subdivision across from the school. It fronts on Camino Pablo and is bordered by Dickinson. A preliminary conference will be held with county officials January 10 at 1:30 p.m.

THE SCHOOL representatives will uphold their stand to oppose further building development until the road is improved.

There is a rumor that the 450-acre Sanders ranch, which also has Camino Pablo as an access road, has been sold to a developer. The rumored sale price was $1650 an acre or $742,500.

The board's resolution noted that the 16-foot-wide road already poses a hazard, not only to pedestrian safety but fire protection as well.

KNIGHT SAID that currently there is traffic congestion around the school, particularly on rainy days. A six-foot-deep, four-foot-wide gully alongside Camino Pablo near the school was caused by the recent storm.

It is currently being filled by the public works department, but still is considered hazardous.

Among those who now use the road are: children riding bikes and walking; teachers; parents; school buses; heavy trucks with equipment, both working on surrounding projects and the school addition.

The board has asked county public works director Vic Sauer to set aside funds for widening and improvement of Camino Pablo road. Its position in opposing further development in the immediate area was indicated to apply only until the road improvement is achieved.

WORK ON a new 140-home subdivision already has started just across the road from the school, District Superintendent Knight added.

Camino Pablo School is one of the two elementary schools in Moraga. It now includes fifth through eighth grades; and is scheduled for expansion this year.

Woman, Boy Hit In 2 Accidents

An Orinda woman pedestrian received minor injuries Wednesday and an Orinda boy was hurt in a traffic accident Tuesday, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Mrs. Saina A. Mills, 53 was struck as she crossed Moraga Way at Vashall Drive, behind the Casa Orinda. Driver was Andrew A. Johnson, 55, of Page Boulevard, Orinda.

Dr. Paul Slattery, whose office is in the Orinda Village, treated Mrs. Mills at the scene of the accident. He then took her to the office. Mrs. Mills, who lives at 74 Hacienda Circle, Orinda, suffered "minor injuries."

At 3:55 Tuesday, eastbound Ronald A. Jouthes, 18, crossed over the double line on Highway 24, east of the tunnel. He struck a car driven by Sam Swetia, 57, of Oakland.

The youth received minor injuries, and was treated by his own physician.

"CLAM SHELL" attachment to a crane digs trench in which to lay pipe for new culvert at El Toyonal and El Rincon. Worker stands on drain which will be replaced by a larger facility.

CULVERT IS lowered by crane into trench. The 60-inch pipe is large enough so that debris, silt and mud will not clog it and cause an overflow as in the October storm, according to a county engineer. Major work in El Toyonal sector is now complete.

Storm Repairs Near Finish

Nearly three months after the "100 Year Storm," Orinda's major storm damage is repaired.

The channel lining of an entire section of San Pablo Creek, which was completely washed out by the storm, will be finished by Monday. Major work in the El Toyonal sector is completed.

"If we have another storm, we're ready," said John Shotwell, field engineer for the County Public Works Department. Shotwell is in charge of the El Toyonal storm repairs.

"IN MOST cases, we're correcting and preventing future damage such as occurred in the area during the flood," said Shotwell.

He stated that "final touches" would go on for about three more weeks. "We've been working against the pressure of time," he said, explaining that there wasn't time to relocate pioneer utility lines.

Several washouts on the downhill side of the road were repaired. Slipouts were corrected by digging out and replacing with a stable material.

On the uphill side, "control structures" were placed to channel water into the pipe. Broken concrete was placed at the outlets of culverts to prevent "wash and scour and dissipate the energy of the water," according to Shotwell.

THE CHANNEL lining of San Pablo Creek along Camino Pablo freeway has been replaced for one-fourth of a mile, between Santa Maria Way and Camino Sobrante.

Work was begun on this project November 20 and will be completed by Monday, said Dan Tonelli, CPW field engineer in charge of this project.

Approximate cost for repairs was $100,000.

The embankment in this area was washed away and further high flow would have endangered the highway, said Tonelli.

Sheet piling was driven on the west side of the creek bank to provide a scour key. Concrete was poured to form a slope protection and prevent scour into the road embankment, he said.

OBJECT of the work is so that the creek can safely pass any flood flows that can be anticipated, according to Tonelli.

Twenty-two men worked on the job at the peak of the operation; and Camino Pablo was narrowed to one lane for northbound traffic.

The sheet piling was driven in by E. H. Lauritzen, Antioch. Gallagher and Burke placed the "rip-rap" and installed the concrete channel lining.

ST. STEPHEN'S Day School courtyard will be the scene for an open house Wednesday from 8-9:30 p.m. This will be the first annual open house for the school, which adjoins St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Orinda.

Rezoning Across From School In Moraga Is OK'd

A 19 acre parcel across from Camino Pablo School in Moraga was rezoned from general agricultural (A-2) to single family residential (R-10) by the County Planning Commission Wednesday.

Russell J. Bruzzone, Lafayette developer, is the owner of the parcel and applied for rezoning.

Brokers Become Board Members

Three brokers were made members of the Contra Costa Board of Realtors and the national and state associations recently, according to J. N. Smith, president.

They are James Storrer of Walnut Creek, Francis R. Rousseau of Lafayette, and Lillian Reardon of Pleasant Hill.

Smith explained that only licensed real estate brokers who become members of real estate boards, the National Association of Real Estate Boards and the California Real Estate Association may use the trade name—"realtor."

There are 72,000 realtors comprising over 1400 real estate boards throughout the nation.

This is the first step in clearing the path for a 77-home subdivision. Bruzzone plans for the area.

A RESOLUTION from the Moraga School Board was read. It was intended to "vigorously oppose" more subdivisions in William Knight.

Dr. Leland Nelson, co-chairman of the civic affairs committee, the immediate vicinity of the school until Camino Pablo road, the only access road to the school, is "improved substantially," according to Superintendent tee of the Moraga Valley Community Club, appeared at the hearing on behalf of the community. He stated that further development in the area was "pre-mature" until such time as Camino Pablo was developed to accommodate the traffic.

THE ROAD is a sub-standard county road. It is less than 16 feet wide. Its narrowness does not permit a white line down the middle, which is an additional hazard in the fog, according to Knight.

In explaining the planners' approval of the rezoning, Commissioner Boone Robinson stated that as property is developed, roads are widened and approved and the speed limit is reduced.

Bruzzone's preliminary subdivision map shows Camino Pablo improved. However, the trustees reiterated their concern at a meeting last night as to who will put in curbs and gutters on the side of the road not owned by Bruzzone—the side on which the school is located.

Knight states that there is traffic congestion now around the school; and that the road is presently inadequate to handle the traffic.

A conference to go over Bruzzone's preliminary subdivision map will be held Thursday. Representatives for Bruzzone, the community, the school, and county will discuss the plan.

The proposed subdivision would extend from across the playground of the school on one end, and across from the entrance to the school on the other.

Clarence Betz To Be Honored As Man of Year

Orinda's "Man of the Year" for 1962, Clarence Betz, will be honored at a dinner given by the Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce, January 24, at Mike Lynn's. Dinner will be at 8 p.m. with the social "hour" at 7:30 p.m.

State Senator George Miller, Jr. will be speaker for the event.

Jaycees President David McCosker will preside. Editor and Publisher of The Sun, Herman Silverman, will present Betz with the award.

Reservations for the dinner may be made evenings or week-ends—with Lyle Deck, 934-0268.

Many Orindans plan to attend to pay homage to Betz, whom Mrs. Frank Olsen describes as one of the "best and oldest friends" of the community.

St. Stephen's Day School To Have First Open House

The Rev. Bernard Mayes will be guest speaker at the St. Stephen's Day School's open house, Wednesday, from 8 to 9:30 p.m.

Father Mayes is a priest in the Episcopal Church. He is a graduate of Cambridge University, England, with a Master of Arts degree in classical literature. He has been associated with London University as a sociologist. This has provided a basis for practical service as a worker priest in an electrical steel works in England.

While in England he was professional broadcaster and in the United States has worked out of the New York and Hollywood studios. He continues his former connection with the British Broadcasting Corporation as American correspondent and now works with the Berkeley educational station, KPAX.

This is the first winter open house of St. Stephen's Day School. The classrooms are contained in four separate buildings surrounding a lovely courtyard. They were built two years ago and have been used as Sunday School rooms in the interim.

The classrooms will be open for inspection. There will be an opportunity to meet the teachers will be host.

Seventy teenagers from seven high schools in the Contra Costa County area attended El Dorado this year. From those that attended this holiday teen convention, Youth for Christ will present El Dorado Echoes. Wayne Zellmer will be master of ceremonies with Jene Wilson song for inspection. Alhambra High School opportunity to meet the teachers will be host.

Presents a New Idea
in Coloring Books--the 1963

DADDY IS told to get lots of exercise, so he works a lot in the yard. Sometimes big wild animals make him mad. But Daddy is smart. He knows how to get rid of these mean old animals. Then Daddy isn't mad anymore. Show in color how smart Daddy is here.

THIS IS Daddy and Mommy at a party. They go to many parties. They say parties are fun. Children are told to be very quiet, but the people at the party are never very quiet, are they? But after a while Daddy and Mommy are happy. Color Daddy and Mommy happy.

COLOR AND WIN

The now departed 1962 marked the start of the fabulous success of coloring books and now, in this year of 1963, the fad continues. Young, old, male, female — here's your chance to get in on the fun.

The contest is open to everyone except The Sun's editors who, gnashing teeth, can compete only by matching crayon colors with their kiddies in living room corners.

THIS PAGE contains four comic photographs that truly depict various aspects of suburbia life.

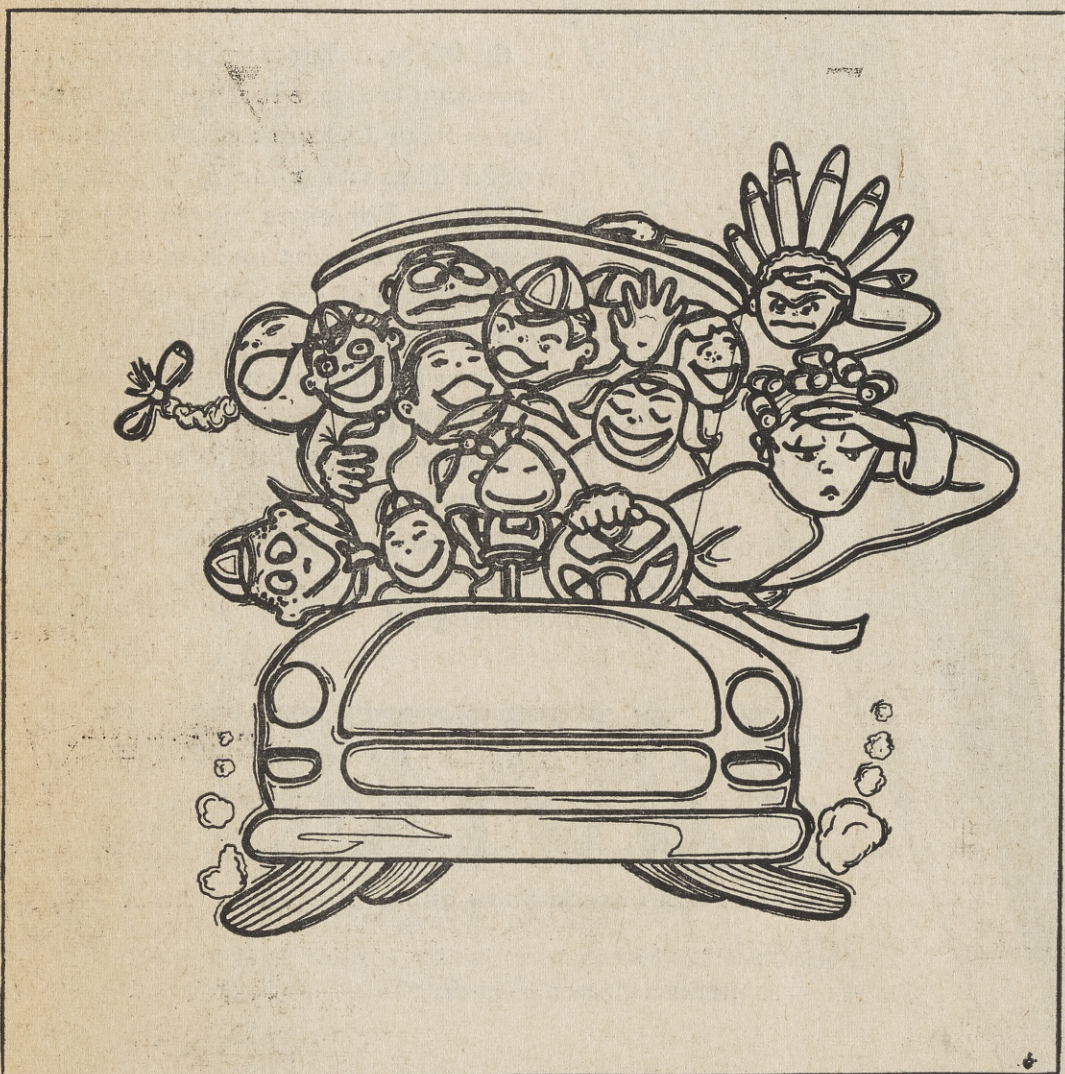

There's the "serene" cocktail party where Daddy and Mommy forget the woes of the day; a commute-type vehicle which Daddy concocts in his dreams for going to and from work; Daddy happily at work in the backyard on week ends; and, finally, that "work-horse" of family life, Mommy, as she performs an interesting daily function of getting the kids to school.

All right, everyone. Whip out the crayons. Let's see who's really the ARTISTIC member of the family.

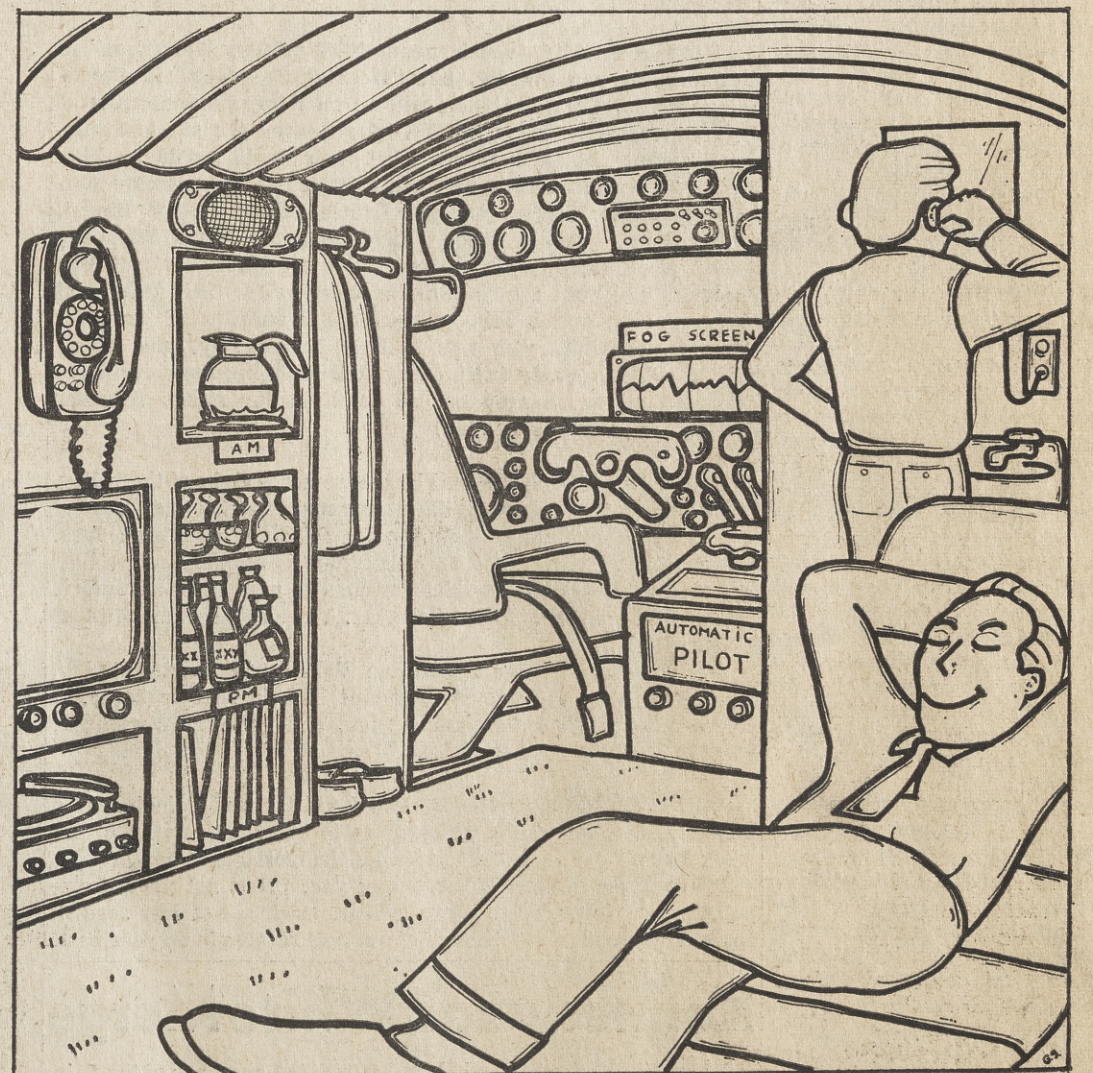

Clip out your colored version of the comic photographs and send them to The Sun's Lafayette office. The deadline is 5 p.m. Wednesday, January 9.

THE WINNER gets a year's free subscription to The Sun. If he or she's already a subscriber, the prize is another year's renewal to the newspaper.

Away, artists! See what you can do! Good luck!

MOMMY HAS a lot of fun each day. She cooks, cleans, shops, takes many children to school. Sometimes there are too many of them, but Mommy always find a way to get them in the car. Color Mommy tired. And don't forget those pin curlers. They are pink.

DADDY HAS many nice dreams at night, but this is the best one. Nobody drives and he snoozes on the way to work. And if he wants, he can have hot coffee or something else, cool and refreshing. Let's color Daddy happy, peaceful, contented. He isn't happy now when he comes home at night. Daddy doesn't like to drive on the freeway.

'In the Shadows'

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE:

The little 13-year-old who was full of excited chatter as she sat down to have her hair set for the first time. Darrell Lackey, stylist at Orinda's "Talk of the Town," asked her how she wanted it done.

"Oh, anyway," she replied, casting caution to the wind, "as long as I look sexy!"

Figuring the worst, Darrell asked her what she and her date intended to do after the school dance. "Probably go home and watch 'Combat,'" she confessed.

COINCIDENCE, not collusion—the fact that Karl Mahler, who served on the Walnut Creek Sun Man of the Year committee, and Paul Tickner, who served on the Jaycee Man of the Year committee, each won an award from the opposite group.

Committee chairmen assure us that the timing and the confidential nature of the groups' meetings prevented any log rolling. "They were both willing to serve, as usual," said one chairman. "And it was for service that they won their awards."

A NEIGHBORLY GESTURE saved the day—Christmas Day—for Don Doughty, president of Orinda Pools. Don, who will be installed this month as president of the National Swimming Pool Institute was grounded last Sunday in Las Vegas on his way home from Hawaii (we don't explain it, we just report it!) Also stranded in Vegas was a neighbor from Lafayette.

The neighbor called his company. Company sent a plane. So Doughty hitchhiked (plane-hiked? hitch-flew?) home on Christmas eve with Edgar Kaiser!

WHILE THE COUNTY Planning Commission makes a study of the county's outdoor advertising ordinance and prepares to report back to supervisors in February, the Naegle Outdoor Display Company of Oakland is donating a large billboard on Highway 21 near Geary Road to the County Development Association. The 12 by 47-foot sign, advertising the county's industrial progress will remain there until—February!

COMPLETE COVERAGE was given to Walnut Creek State Farm Agent Monte Balfour last week as vandals threw eggs in and at his car.

"But they were nice kids," said Monte, dabbing at his suit. "After all, they threw fresh eggs."

NOBODY WAS HOME at the Bill Gearhart residence in Lafayette to see how pretty daughter Cathie looked as she went to the Del Valle Junior Prom recently. That was because Daddy was down at the hospital ogling little Willie, just born to Mommie, Bonnie.

But Cathy figures to get even... In five years she could make Willie the only "Uncle" in his kindergarten class!

CHANGE YOUR nuts and bolts this year when you remove your license plates and help the Easter Seal Society. Volunteers will be stationed on the sidewalks near the Department of Motor Vehicles with packets containing the exact number you'll need to attach your plates. Your contribution will aid crippled children and adults of Contra Costa County.

BIG MAN of the year in real estate circles is Carl Bryant of Walnut Creek. He was named to that distinction recently at a convention down south by the Real Estate Certificate Institute for his "outstanding achievements in upgrading the industry."

NOT EXACTLY CRYING in his beer is Adolph Markstein, local distributor of the beverage, over the fact that California beer drinkers poured nearly a third of a million dollars in tax money every single day in 1962 into federal, state and local coffers.

The figures are based on an estimated consumption during the year of eight million barrels of the more refreshing stuff, according to the California Brewers Association.

Library Shows New Textbooks

On display until Thursday at the Central-Pleasant Hill Library, 1750 Oak Park Boulevard, Pleasant Hill, is a selection of textbook and teacher manuals received on loan from the State Department of Education.

All are concerned with the social studies and are suitable for the sixth and seventh grades. They were recommended for state adoption by the State Curriculum Commission on November 14, 1962.

As required by Education Code Section 9306, these copies have been placed in the library to make them available for public examination before the state board acts upon the recommendation on Friday, January 11.

The board invites written comment from parents and other interested residents of the state. Forms which the general public may use in making suggestions to the board accompany the selection.

Moraga Memo

By JANE PUTNAM

Great Expectations

WHAT THE DICKENS—can you think of a better way to start our first column of the year than expecting great and good things? As long as we're starting a clean slate, why not set our sights high and have none of this bargaining with life for a penny. On account of if that is what you're willing to settle for, you probably will get even less.

Our valley has such an abundance of great and good things. Like Auntie Mame put it: "Life is a feast; but most poor... (censored)... are starving to death."

DID YOU BLUSH when Joe Navone's boys came around Monday? Was your garbage can filled with non-returnable "dead soldiers?" What tales those collectors could tell!

And speaking of telling, since I'm locked up in an air-tight office all day, and a ranch house all night, would appreciate your calling or writing me news of Moraga. Phone 283-0353 daytime or 376-4128 night. Or send any items to The Sun, 1001 Oak Hill Road, Lafayette. That would be a really neighborly thing to do. Thank you.

NEW YEAR'S EVE in the valley was anything but quiet. Firecrackers, horns and parties were all over the place.

Over 60 attended the party at Carroll Country Club. It wasn't a club function, although mostly members and their guests attended, and Lew and Kay Blodgett allowed the use of the club facilities.

Planning the affair were Freddie and John Onisko, Gussie and Ivar Abramson, Dot and Mitch Meridith, Corrine and Ralph Brennan. There was dancing, champagne and a delectable midnight buffet prepared by Buster Marini. The horns and fun makers were from Jo-Ev. However, Joe nor Ev Nosenso could attend. They're mighty busy these days with the Weldonian Band, in which their youngsters star.

Among those at Carroll were the Don Campbells, Jack Millers with guests... new members Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hambrick with guests... Ralph and Harriet Schwarz... Bob and Bev Jessick... Barney and Sarah Glasky... the Louis Rosenblums, Stan and Eileen Hobson, the Carl Simmons, Steve and Pauline Belavich, Ted and Ann Kalavis, Charles and Naomi Moffatt, Dane and Enid Pederson The Blodgetts surprised everyone by returning early from out-of-town and seeing in the New Year at the club.

ORCHARD DELL dwellers saw in 1963 in style. Two of the homes ablaze with fires, friends and happiness were those of Bert and Colleen Hall and L. V. and Al Haskell.

Among those at the Halls' Lynch Court abode, dancing the year away (with a midnight supper break) were Faye and Arf Parker, Pauline and Frank Mendes, Eric and Pat Accamazzo (who was watching his Shell station, pray tell?), Janet and Earl Bergfeld, Ginger and Tom Pletcher, Ellery and Pauline Hall, Lois and Jack Woodmansee, Jim and Betty Terrell, Milt and Rose Reed, Jean and Harold Bates.

Living up the lively soiree at L. V. and Al Haskell's was Lois Nelson's date, Dr. Lee. Bundled against the ravages of the freezing night, Lee came in beret, macintosh and mustache. He carried a strange looking jug which would've been more apropos in a doctor's office than at a cocktail party. (By the by, young Dr. Nelson is in charge of the county's National Dental Health Week, which commences to begin Feb. 4.)

Back to school trustee Haskell's menage... Among those who dropped in were Head Trustee Rex Collings and Marcella, Jim and Betty Terrell, Jack and Nel Prescott, Dick and Albe Kostyrka, Paul and Ellie Sorenson, and Don and Joanne Bryant. Here from Sacramento, especially to ring in the new with old neighbors were Jim and Shirley Fry, Berta and Herb Cunningham, other old neighbors who left their hearts in Orchard Dell, planned to come from Claremont for the occasion, but last minute transportation problems (like fog and ice?) change their plans.

HASH-A-TU-AYA (which means NOT "Happy New Year" in Japanese, as you thought, but "Working Together" in Campfire parlance) Campfire Girls will be on television tomorrow at 4:30 p.m., Channel 2, KTVU. The girls toured the studio during the Christmas holidays to see what their debut would be like. Hash-A-Tu-Aya members who are expected to give Emmy performances are: Penny Aveson, Laurie Bates, Cheryl Biondi, Joanne Burr, Carolyn Sharpe, Linda Shields, Nanci Wiemkin, Donna Wool, Lisa Peterson. Leaders are Jean Bates and Dee Wiemkin. The girls are working on insignias for their individual Indian names, which brings back fond memories of our own little Me-Ma-Wa-Ta who was 20 New Year's Day, and whose New Year's Eve party (with every stick of living room furniture relegated to the garage) left no doubt in our minds that her Kjiwowa days are done. BUSY AGENDA is planned by the women's clubs of the valley. Moraga newcomers will have their monthly meeting Tuesday at Donald Rheem School at 8 p.m. Publicity chairman Mrs. Henry McFalls reminds us that the group is now one and a half years old. Object: to acquaint newcomers with the community. Coffees are held frequently. Call Mrs. Vincent Keilman, 376-4803 for further info.

GOP Women's Club of Moraga Valley will meet Tuesday, aussi. It will be at Genevieve Stumps' Diablo Estates home. If you're a GOP woman without a club, call Barbara Workinger, 376-5712.

SPRINKLING OF PHILOSOPHY written and rejected at a tender age seems like a fitting close to our first column of the year: As each old year rolls by, count the blessings it has brought you; count the lessons it has taught you. Count not your disappointments. As each new year rolls in, think not of any sorrow, but look forward to hopeful tomorrow. And resolve to do your best.

Kennedy and White Merge

John M. Kennedy and Ken White merged their insurance agencies to open Kennedy-White Insurance, Wednesday. The enlarged office is located in the Central Valley Bank Building, Orinda.

It is the same location as was Ken White Insurance. Kennedy was formerly with the MacBeth and Kennedy Insurance Agency, Oakland.

Both of the partners have had their own agencies for over 10 years; and were in the insurance business for many years previous to that.

KENNEDY is past president of the Lafayette Improvement Association. He and Mrs. Kennedy, with their three daughters, reside at 3242 Sweet Drive, Lafayette.

More Legal Talent Here

The legal talent of three mid-county communities was augmented last week when six local men were reported to have passed the fall state bar examination.

George A. Brumoe, Leland A. Butler and Paul Franklin de Bruynkops, all of Lafayette, will be certified January 15 with Orinda's Robert A. Ellsworth and Louis Taylor Deane, Jr. and Guy Earlington Reynolds of Pleasant Hill.

The successful candidates were among the 908 in California and 20 in Contra Costa County who passed the rigorous exam, the State Bar of California reported last week.

BBBBRRRR! Children starting back to school Wednesday had to bundle up for protection against the icy morns. Leaving the Jack B. Hubners' home in Orinda are Mark, Janet, Bob and Nancy Hubner. Mark and Janet are bound for elementary school, Nancy for intermediate, and Bob for high school.

MR. COMMUTER had to scrape ice off of the windshield before driving to the office. Motorists without garages had to arise a little earlier each morning this week in order to clean the windshield and warm up the motor. Sun photos by Bob Yost CELEBRATION DAYS: January 2, 3, 4, 7, 8, 9, 10 and Saturday the 5th/9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

LYTTON IS HERE, so EVERYTHING'S COMING UP ROSES FOR YOU At Lytton Savings' Free "Bare Root Rose Festival and Open House Party"

Our celebration is new to the East Bay, because Lytton Savings is new to Oakland. But what a delightful way to get acquainted! □ Three years ago we started these January Rose Festivals in Palo Alto. The first year 3927 friends attended. The next year 8653 Peninsula folk came by. And by last year, we were the talk of the town! Our friends told their friends, and all in all, we played host to 12,873 guests! And here in Oakland, we know you'll find our celebration every bit as rewarding as your neighbors down Palo Alto way. □ FREE GIFTS Plan to stop by at your convenience. You'll be greeted by roses, roses everywhere...vivid reds, orange splashes, delicate pinks, blossoms of every size and hue. Then, stacked high around the lobby...the central attraction... thousands of bare root roses in lovely boxes from Jackson and Perkins, the world famous rose growers in Pleasanton. For extra pleasure, you'll receive a free booklet on rose care and culture for those of you who want help in planting your bare root roses. And, for help in figuring your income tax, a free income tax guide! □ DELICIOUS REFRESHMENTS, TOO! So do come. Help us make this, our first Open House in Oakland, a huge success. Remember, there is no obligation. A friendly smile and a warm hello is the most you need to share our hospitality, with coffee and cakes and of course, memorable free gifts!

FIRST WITH 4.8% CURRENT ANNUAL RATE

THE LYTTON SAVINGS PLAN MEANS EXTRA INTEREST FOR YOU! An even more profitable occupation than planting bare root roses this January, is planting your savings in a Lytton Savings Account. You earn the highest rate of interest in the Bay Area...paid quarterly...and receive the extra-interest benefits of The Lytton Savings Plan: interest from the date of deposit on funds held through a quarter and interest to the exact date of withdrawal on funds remaining with us for six months.

Don Doughty, Pool Builder, Makes a Great Big $pla$h!

If any of today's kids are dreaming of driving a white T-bird, and wishing America was the land of opportunity, like in the history books, they should know about Donald L. Doughty, Lafayette's, Young Man in a Hurry.

Doughty drives a white T-bird. He also drives a four-seat Beech Bonanza. He operates his ham radio W6EEN when he's home, and enjoys settee-hi fi he's wired all over the place.

HE'S TAKEN the old Klaxon horn that was his first hotrod off the doorbell connection and put it under the hood of his T-bird.

Of course, he's getting pretty old now—he'll be 33 next February. But that will be after he's installed as president of the National Swimming Pool Institute at a Miami convention in January, giving him official recognition as top brass in his industry.

Owner-president of Orinda Pools, Inc., on Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, Don Doughty is also founding director of Lafayette Savings and Loan; a partner in J-D Builders which just completed the $340,000 Carmel Manor in Walnut Creek; a partner in Orinda North and other land development companies; business consultant to manufacturers of water treatment equipment manufacturers; owner of Aqua Orinda—a firm which develops swim clubs.

HE HAS TIME for civic activities, too, and seldom misses a Rotary meeting.

That foggy weekend in mid-December he flew his Beech Bonanza home from a meeting in Los Angeles, took Mrs. Doughty to a couple of Christmas parties that night and early Sunday morning caught a jet to Honolulu, where University of Hawaii officials wanted to confer with him about a pool they're going to build, which will be one of the world's biggest.

When Doughty is installed as president of the National Swimming Pool Institute, January 15, he will be top man in an industry he's been in for only six years.

He started Orinda Pools, Inc. in 1956 in his home garage—built three pools that year. Doughty has since rolled up a million-dollars-a-year business.

Last month, he signed a single contract for 100 pools for Silver

DON DOUGHTY stands in front of the pool he designed for his Lafayette home. The Mexican pebbles were inlaid by hand by the Doughtys to form an unusual landing, and planting area for the Drecena palms. Doughty will be installed at president of the National Swimming Pool Institute, January 15.

"POSTMAN'S DAY OFF" for pool builder extraordinary, Don Doughty, is enjoyed at the pool in the backyard of his home in Black Hawk Road, Lafayette. Mrs. Doughty looks on. Gate Homes in San Ramon. It was the biggest pool contract ever signed on the west coast.

THE ONLY PHD in the pool industry, Doughty left a promising career in research and teaching to enter the mucky business.

He had taken B.S., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in mechanical engineering and engineering science from the University of California at Berkeley. Having been on the university's staff as teacher and research director while working toward his doctorate, he went on to Shell Development Company as a research engineer and consultant.

With too much restless vitality and too broad a field of business interests for confinement to the ivory tower of research, he launched his own firm in the burgeoning pool industry in 1956.

With grounding in engineering and business methods rare in his new field, Doughty was soon taking international honors for excellence of design and construction of swim pools.

NSPI, THE TRADE association for designers and builders of pools as well as manufacturers of equipment and components, pressed him into organizational work in a move to "share the knowledge."

Doughty has worked with numerous committees of the NSPI, as well as in his own testing laboratories, to set standards, upgrade performance and bring about technological and safety advances in the pool industry.

He has conducted seminars, written endless treatises on technical matters for publication within the industry, served as pool builders' voice to the public.

His byline has been seen over articles about pools, poolscaping and equipment in such publications as the New York Times.

SATURDAY EVENING POST featured him last summer in its final "People On The Way Up" section. He was not pictured in his own beautiful swimming pool, but in a business suit dictating a letter—as he seldom has time to swim for pleasure.

Young Don, whose mother had a career in a theatrical agency, helped himself through school by working.

After missing a full year of school because of illness, he was sent to the Montezuma School in Los Altos. He mowed lawns, drove tractors, waited tables; and put in extra hours helping with the heating plants. Even then, motors fascinated him.

THERE WAS a one-year break after he started to the university when he worked in an East Oakland foundry—hard work, but most educational for a boy headed for engineering.

Most of his spare time these years was spent fooling with engines. He was in the pit crew one year for the Indianapolis races and his motors set two

Go to Church Sunday

METHODIST
"We Are All Gamblers" will be the sermon topic of the Reverend George E. Berry at the Lafayette Methodist Church, 955 Moraga Road, Lafayette. Worship services are held Sunday at 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. Nursery care is provided during both services.

Church school for ages through high school is held at 9:30 a.m. An adult Bible class is held at 9:30 a.m.

The intermediate Methodist Youth Fellowship (seventh and eighth graders) and the high school Methodist Youth Fellowship meet Sunday evenings at 7 p.m. in the new Fellowship Building. Those interested are invited.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service is starting a study course, "Responsible Adults for Tomorrow's World." The first meeting will be Wednesday at 10 a.m. Women interested are cordially invited to attend.

Sunday, January 13, new members will be received into the fellowship. For further information, call the pastor, 284-4765.

SUBURBAN BIBLE
This Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service of the Suburban Bible Church, the Rev. R. E. Thompson will be guest speaker. Rev. Thompson is a native of Ireland and has served as a missionary in China under the China Inland Mission for many years.

At the present time he is in the Bay Area under the auspices of Overseas Crusades. For the past several years since leaving China when the land was closed to missionaries, Rev. Thompson has been actively engaged in the ministry of training candidates for the foreign mission field.

Regular Sunday school classes will be held for all ages at 9:45 in the church's present place of meeting, the Lafayette Veterans' Building, 3499 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

EPISCOPAL
The services on Sunday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, St. Stephen's Drive and Las Vegas Road, Orinda, will consist of holy communion at 7:30 a.m. and choral Eucharist at 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. The Rev. Arthur H. Newberg will deliver the sermon.

Sunday at 7 p.m. the senior high youth group will present the feast of lights drama entitled "The Light of the World." The drama portrays the Old Testament prophecies, the gospel stories and the modern message of the church.

METHODIST
This Sunday St. Mark's Methodist Church, 451 Moraga Way, Orinda, will offer the Sacrament of Holy Communion at the 11 a.m. service.

All are welcome to participate in the sacrament and are invited to join with the church and Chancel Choir in the communion.

The Chancel Choir, directed by Mrs. John Holsinger, will present the anthem, Ave Verum, as well as lead the congregation in the choral communion.

The Methodist Church School, directed by Victor Smith, will meet at 9:30 at which time classes are held for all persons. You are invited to participate.

At 6:30 p.m. the Junior High MYF, Mr. and Mrs. Max Carlton, counselors, will meet and at 7 p.m. the Senior High MYF meets at the chapel. Tom Cline is president.

The official board of the church will meet on the third Wednesday of this month at the chapel. Al Rodee is chairman of the board.

PRESBYTERIAN
The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the 11 o'clock worship service of the Moraga Valley Presbyterian Church. Worship services are held in the old Moraga School. Dr. Ronald T. White, pastor, will give the communion meditation. The old Moraga School at 11 a.m. for kindergarten through the junior department.

The Women's Guild will meet on Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. with luncheon at noon. Mrs. Stuart LeRoy Anderson of the Pacific School of Religion will be the speaker in the afternoon program.

ORINDA COMMUNITY CHURCH
(United Church of Christ)
There will be a service of Holy Communion at 9:30 and 11 o'clock at the Orinda Community Church. "A New Way" will be the theme. The Reverend Chauncey Blossom's communion message. Church school classes will be held during each service and child care provided.

Senior Pilgrim Fellowship will meet at the church at 7 p.m.

The Women's Guild will meet on Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. with luncheon at noon. Mrs. Stuart LeRoy Anderson of the Pacific School of Religion will be the speaker in the afternoon program.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
Man's inseparable relationship to his creator will be emphasized at Christian Science church services Sunday. Subject of the lesson-sermon is "God."

Golden Text: "Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God" (Rev. 21:3).

Readings will include this passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 3): "The Divine Being must be reflected by man,—else man is not the image and likeness of the patient, tender, and true, the One 'altogether lovely'; but to understand God is the work of eternity, and demands absolute consecration of thought, energy and desire."

Christian Science churches are located at 3422 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette; 22 Orinda Way, Orinda.

EPISCOPAL
Services this Sunday, the Feast of the Epiphany, will be Holy Communion at 8:15 a.m. and the service of Morning Prayer and Holy Communion at 9:30.

Sunday school meets at this hour with child care provided for those under three. The vicar, the Rev. William J. Frankhuizen, will be the celebrant at both services.

Saint Giles' serves the area of southern Orinda and Moraga and meets for worship at Inland Valley School, 70 Ivy Drive, Orinda.

Winter Court of Honor Held for Scout Troop 200

The winter court of honor for Troop 200 was held in Orinda recently with the usually fine array of advancements throughout the troop, according to Paul Majka, senior patrol leader.

Tenderfoot investiture ceremonies were conducted for Dave Dupuis, Bill Harrison, Fred Sigworth and Ken Williams.

SCOUTS ACHIEVING second class awards were Ken Crawford, Bob Denning, Ken Semrau, Fred Sigworth and Paul Stanley. This means that Fred Sigworth attained the tenderfoot and second class award at the same court of honor, a feat which is rarely accomplished.

Steve Dupuis and Ron Ivy mastered the requirements and were awarded first class scout rank. Star scout rating went to Wayne Abbott.

Life scout awards were presented to Mark Knudsen and Dwight Sigworth. Also, for his outstanding advancement since the October court of honor, Dwight Sigworth received the Rotary Club's sponsor's achievement award.

MERIT BADGES were earned by Jack Bowers in nature; Mark Knudsen in nature and citizenship in the community; Steve Knudsen, nature; Paul Majka, architecture; Stan Majka, scholarship; Dwight Sigworth, fishing, nature, scholarship and citizenship in the home; Steve Williams in safety and citizenship in the home.

Year pins were awarded for scouts attending a satisfactory number of meetings and field trips.

Charles Ivy made the presentation of the Troop 200 charter. Closing ceremonies were conducted by Scoutmaster Harrison W. Sigworth and Senior Patrol Leader Majka.

If you would create something, you must be something.

Academy Honors Dr. Baron

Dr. Thomas Baron of Orinda, director of basic and general engineering at Shell Development Company's Emeryville Research Center, received an award from the Academy of Achievement at the academy's annual meeting in San Diego, December 29-31.

The aims of the academy are "to broaden the recognition of men and women of exceptional accomplishment in the great fields of endeavor . . . and to foster an international spirit of understanding by annually bringing together the great minds and talents of many nations."

About 50 men and women from all parts of the world gathered in San Diego for academy's annual meeting, retreat and banquet.

DR. BARON has won both the Allan P. Colburn and Professional Progress Awards of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, the highest honors his profession can bestow.

He is a member of the advisory committee of the mathematics department of Alameda State College and of the advisory board of the Process and Design Quarterly, published by the American Chemical Society.

Dr. Baron has been with Shell Development Company for 11 years. He and his family make their home at 17 Van Ripper Lane, Orinda.

Higgins, Bedsworth Invited to Crosby

Bill Higgins of Orinda and Jay Bedsworth of Lafayette are among the East Bay golfers who have received bids to the Bing Crosby Pro-Am tournament.

I am only one, but I am one. I cannot do everything, but I can do something. What I can do, I ought to do. And what I ought to do, by God's grace, I will do.—Anon.

Herbert Hauser Dies Saturday

Herbert Hauser, elder statesman among Montgomery Street stockbrokers, and longtime civic leader of Orinda, died recently. He was 83. Hauser lived in Oakland at the time of his death, having recently moved from Orinda.

Schools' Future Up for Grabs

Do you know that the future organization of your local school districts will depend upon an election to be held in the near future?

Do you know that public meetings on this will be held very soon, and this is your best opportunity to learn what is going on?

"Plan F" would unify Walnut Creek and Lafayette elementary schools, along with Las Lomas, Acalanes and Del Valle High Schools.

"PLAN F" would unify Orinda, Moraga and Canyon elementary schools with Miramonte and Campolindo High Schools.

"Plan F" will do these things if you vote yes in sufficient numbers on election day.

Is "Plan F" the answer to our problems?

The Orinda, Moraga, Canyon public meeting will be held January 22 at Pine Grove School, Orinda.

THE WALNUT CREEK, Lafayette meeting will be January 29 at Stanley School, Lafayette.

Your choice is "Plan F" or else status quo at this time.

If Plan F fails, local authorities may undertake to form another plan to submit to the voters.

If they delay, state authorities acting under a state law may enter our area and begin their own studies toward determining a good plan.

THE STATE people would then submit their plan to the voters for approval or disapproval.

The outcome of all this is crucial for our area. The public meetings are the easiest way for you to become informed in give-and-take discussion.

The Sun originally favored the "horizontal plan" which would have unified all the elementary districts within the Acalanes School District and the Acalanes District itself.

But we later recommended "Plan F" as the more reasonable due to the tremendous opposition to the horizontal plan.

A MAJORITY of the 11-member County Schools Reorganization Committee had favored the horizontal plan, although the augmented committee voted for Plan F.

And trustees of the Acalanes High School District are still strong for the horizontal district.

The question at this time does not involve the horizontal district.

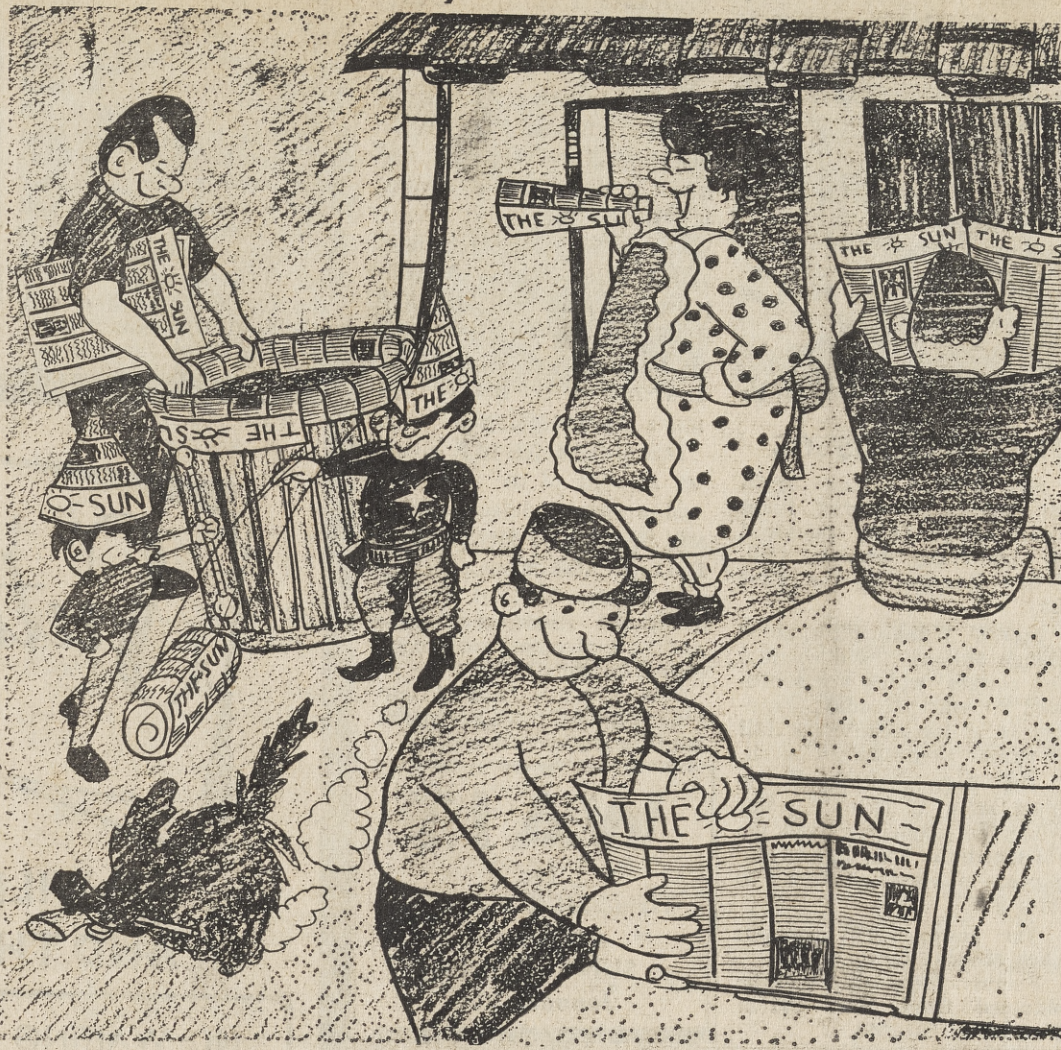

It's "Plan F"—to be or not to be.

MANY PEOPLE feel that the elementary district trustees came out for Plan F not because they like it, but because they felt they had to do something, and this was next best to "status quo" from their viewpoint.

This coming election is not a tax election as such, but its outcome will affect your pocketbook and the quality and quantity of education obtained for each tax dollar.

See you at the public meetings!

Very Versatile!

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

I have mixed emotions on your last week's editorial designed to program the defeat of Mel Nielsen for supervisor in 1964.

It is indeed fair that you made your stand known at an early date.

Many of us will look forward to your promised publication of the reasons for your stand.

What Mel lacks in 'political polish', he makes up for in hard work.

Few officials in his capacity have devoted as much time to their responsibilities. I disagree with much that Mel has done, but in turn I will back him to the hilt in many of his actions.

He has been so active that he has made an issue of so many things that it is quite natural many voters will tend to only remember when they did not agree with him. The good must come with the bad. To date I feel Mel has been a good supervisor.

I hope in the coming months he will win your favor by changing the policy which you state in your editorial: "... so many foolish and unstatesmanlike acts ..."

We Like It Here... It's All in the Game of Absurdia in Suburbia...

By MARIE MONAHAN

HAVE YOU seen the brand new "family room game" Santa sent around to all Very Good Suburbanites this season? It is called "ABSURDIA IN SUBURBIA."

It is guaranteed, it says here, to have you crying in your beer. Vodka.

CRAZY! The whole game is based on the old lie, belief, that if you can laugh at yourself, you're lucky; you'll survive. It says right out that playing "Absurdia" is cheaper than paying a psychiatrist.

THE GAME, as it will hereafter be called, is played on the floor.

In keeping with things cozy & conforming, it is played on a big roll of wall-to-wall linoleum. Paper. Paper linoleum.

The manufacturer even suggests that if your own carpeting has been repossessed because of non-payment, The Game, printed in an all-over pattern that goes with any decor, will serve in a pinch.

You can choose any of the tars or tokens you please. These are cute things called Status Symbols. Isn't THAT cleverly original?

You have your choice of a divine T-Bird, a french poodle, a swimming pool, a barbecue pit or a huge stereo set.

The nice part about these objects is that they conveniently double as ashtrays or drink holders as you grope, as you play The Game across the floor.

Now for the object of The Game ...

It is NOT to see how much money you can make or rake in. The winner (this WILL surprise you) is the one who spends it all first.

Which is easy to do. In The Game.

The Game is played on the floor for another purpose. It is especially relaxing for new homeowners. It gives them something to do till the furniture comes. Like chairs.

So you take up your tar & toss the die, say, to Number 3. Good! You've found your Dream Home 'way beyond your budget. You are off to a good suburban start. Pay the bank $10,000.00, take another turn & try for a second mortgage.

OR—Sorry, today you're IT! Go ahead two with Cub Scouts, back up three for the club meeting, onward & up five with the Girl Scouts & one more to the Dentist. Or this gasser —"The heck with the groceries. Pay the gas bill. $85.00."

If you land on Number 6—"The freezer, TV & washer broke down. $400 for repairs or order new ones to replace & ante up same."

Don't cry already. We've not yet begun.

Let's look over the Squares before we start. No, no. Not the other players (where DID they come from?) The spaces that tell us Where To Go—

Here's a goodie! "Hooray, you got a promotion. Join the Country Club & part with an even Thou."

"Your wife needs a new car. Blow for a Bird. Bye, bye the down, $1450!"

"New golf equip. $350 of the green stuff, please."

"The Jones are going to Europe. You'd better go, to. That's a good keeper-upper & will cost you $2500."

OR—"Gardens take time & money. Hire a man at $1200 per."

"Big cocktail party coming up. Uncle Sam won't like you putting it on expense acct. Cough up $200 smackers."

"Oh, Oh. Tax time! Hand over $800 & consider yourself lucky!"

"Kids' teeth crooked? Dole out $1200 for braces."

"Swimming pool you NEED! Float over the $500 down."

"A backyard barbecue with built-in steaks? You get roasted for another $500."

Sometimes you get very dizzy playing The Game & then you can go over in the corner & sulk by yourself. Everybody's laughing so hard anyhow, no one will even notice!

If you get That Certain Space, you simply play Dummy. Sit the whole thing out ...

"Go back to the city & start all over again," it says there. Anyone for "Absurdia"?

hope they do not influence the President too much in the new year and in the years to follow.

The phony film editing of the 1960 S.F. hearings of this committee should have exposed some of these flag-waving phonies! If we can't discuss peace and co-existence openly without the HUAC putting out subpoenas, then we are indeed in sad shape as a so-called free world leader.

With a Shrug
And a Sigh--
That's Us

By GEORGE COLBURN

Did Christmas depress you again this year?

Did your presents arrive in damaged condition? Were the clerks rude? Did you pay out twice as much this year and only receive half as much?

Do you get upset when the TV re-runs begin in December?

Did the garage foul up your car motor even more?

Do you long for the "good, old days?"

If all your answers are yes—join the crowd of "dissatisfied Americans" that is growing every day.

This seems like a negative way to start the New Year, but we all know things are not going to get much better for a long time.

If you've been bothered by before America stands straight again—and we all know no one can help the situation but Americans themselves.

If you've been bothered by the deterioration of our "way of life"—you are not alone.

IN THIS article, because of lack of space, I will quote one well-known American writer who has published his view on America today in a book of fiction.

Many Americans read "Advice and Consent." I did. I enjoyed it.

However, only once, in the 760 pages, did I have cause to stop and underline (in pen) passages and read them over and over again.

I shall quote Allen Drury who is commenting on the post-war situation.

"This was the era, domestically, when everything was half done; the era, in foreign affairs, when nothing was right because nobody seemed to care enough to exercise the foresight and take the pains to see that it was done right. This was the time when the job on the car was always half finished, the suit came back from the cleaners half dirty, the yardwork was overpriced and underdone, the bright new gadget broke down a week after you got it home, the prices climbed higher and higher as the quality got less and less and the old-fashioned rule of a fair bargain for a fair price was in d e e d old-fashioned for it never applied to anything."

I THINK Drury states his case very well. Go back and read it over. Then, continue below because there's more.

"The great Age of the Shoddy came upon America after the war and Everybody Wants His became the guiding principle for far too many. With it came the Age of the Shrug, the time when it was too hard, too difficult and too bothersome to worry about tomorrow, or even very much about today, when the problems of world leadership were too large and too insistent and too frightening to be grasped and so everybody would rather sigh and shrug and concentrate instead on bigger and better cars and shinier and shinier appliances and longer vacations in a sort of helpless blind seeking after Nirvana that soothed them but unfortunately only encouraged their enemies."

Drury pointed out that "A dry rot had affected America in these recent years, and every sensitive American knew it."

HE CLAIMED there was "a terrifying drag against efforts to move ahead, a frightening apathy that seemed to run through the entire structure of American life."

Are you a sensitive American?

I'm sure many Americans see what is happening, but just can't seem to bring themselves to do anything about it.

It's the Age of the Shrug.

Under The Sun Want to Do Something About All-Digit Dialing?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Today I am going to get mad. Not angry. M-A-D-I.

And you may want to join me: that is, if you dislike the phone company's all-digit dialing as much as I.

I hate it. So far, I have not forced myself to use it. I still say "Clifford or Atlantic, or Yellowstone or Mulberry or Vernon."

Do you?

Perhaps I'm just getting old and have difficulty "learning new tricks." Perhaps I am just stupid and can't remember seven numbers as easily as two letters and five numbers.

Perhaps? Heck no, I will hereby admit that I simply have trouble remembering the seven numbers. Sometimes I can; most of the time I can't.

How about you?

Is it too late?

Why am I discussing this problem today, since Pacific Telephone and Telegraph and A.T. and T. have announced they are definitely converting to all-digits? Can anything be done about it?

Many months ago when the phone company first announced they were converting, I too felt that nothing could be done about it. You can't stop progress, etc., etc. I wrote a column explaining why the phone company said this is necessary.

In the months following, the other side of the story slowly became known. The all-digit system is not the only alternative available. It may be the most feasible from the phone company's point of view; it may be the best way to achieve nationwide, direct dialing.

Most feasible for you?

But it has become apparent that all-digit dialing places a very real hardship on millions of telephone subscribers. This became obvious to the individual telephone user when he started wrestling with seven numbers plus three more digits (area code) if he placed a long distance call.

In recent months The Sun discussed the system in articles, editorials and in a poll. Our position is that if modern scientists can be preparing to send men to the moon (and the telephone company is in the middle of this type of research), then surely our scientists can develop a much simpler and more convenient system than all-number dialing.

Others think so too. Recently telephone subscribers in Los Angeles placed two complaints before the State Public Utilities Commission, to block the phone company's use of the all-digit system.

Counter-attack in L.A.

Last week hearings were held in Los Angeles and experts testified that the all-number system is unnecessary. A USC physics researcher argued that sufficient phone numbers in the nation could be obtained by keeping the present two-letter prefix or by substituting a three-letter-and-number system.

The Chronicle reports PUC Commissioner George Grover said that hearings will move to San Francisco this week. Howard Greenhalgh, our local phone company manager, checked this but finds nothing scheduled. In answer to my second question, Howard reported that the Anti-Digit Daling League of the Bay Area has filed a complaint and is asking that the new system be stopped. No hearing dates have been set yet.

Howard said further hearings on the southern California all-digit complaints are scheduled for January 7 through 11 in Los Angeles. The commission has set January 23-25 for opening testimony on its own broad investigation into the company's rates, service and other questions.

Now hear this ...

In L.A. a phone company executive testified that less than one-eighth of one per cent of its subscribers have protested the new system and thus we should all forget it.

This is what makes me a bit mad. Does P.T. and T. expect a rebellion? Do they want us to start petitions, to write thousands of letters, to picket their offices, to march en masse to the commission hearings?

If a better system is available, the phone company should now come forth with it. If a second best system is better for millions of subscribers, P.T. and T. should consider it immediately.

True, some exchanges have been converted, but—a gigantic conversion program still faces the company throughout the nation.

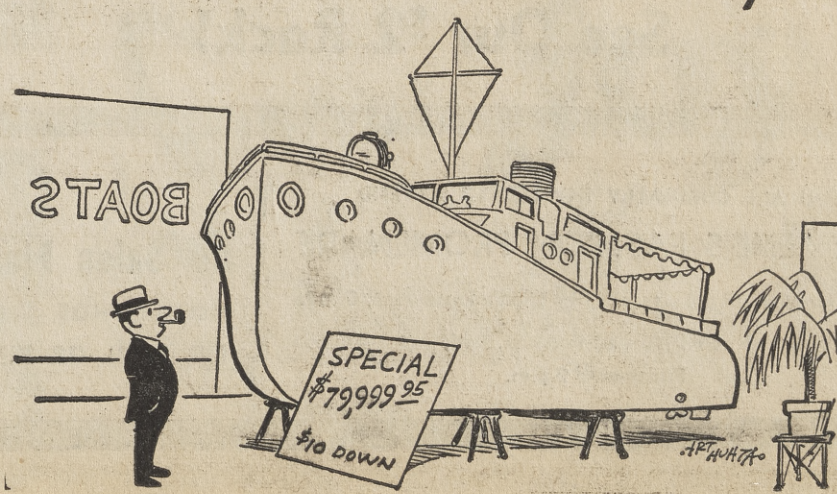

P.U.C.—the last resort

If the phone company is unwilling to re-consider, then it is incumbent on our state commission to order them to do so and to assist in an investigation. The PUC was established to speak for the "people," it is the people's agency to regulate public utilities.

I don't foresee thousands of letters pouring into the PUC because of this column. However, if you do want to write a post card or note, the address is Public Utilities Commission, State Building, San Francisco (350 McAllister).

Well, what do you think?

Lois Jean Martin Is Wed to David Benson

San Ramon Valley Congregational Church, Danville, was the setting December 22 for the marriage of Lois Jean Martin to David Benson.

Lois is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Martin, 21 Anderson Circle, Walnut Creek. David is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Lyman Benson of Claremont. The Rev. Ray Fowler of Claremont performed the nuptial rites at 1 p.m.

Lois wore a floor-length satin wedding gown with sweetheart neckline. It had a controlled front skirt with self cummerbund and self roses in the back.

She wore a Dior rose headpiece with silk illusion veil. The bride carried a small white Bible with orchid and white rosebud bouquet.

Eileen Martin was maid of honor for her sister.

Bridesmaid was Carolyn Jones, Carolyn, a student at Brigham Young University, is a Walnut Creek resident and old friend of the bride.

The attendants wore green satin gowns and carried yellow carnations.

Best man was Robert L. Benson, brother of the groom. Usher was Thad Smith of Claremont.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Yellow chrysanthemums and carnations were in abundance.

The wedding cake's three tiers were topped by bride and groom figurines.

Lois attended Las Lomas High School. She is a sophomore at Pomona College, where she will continue her studies.

David graduated from Pomona in 1962. He is an engineer with Aerojet-General Corporation in Azusa.

Grandparents from out of town who attended the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Swenson from Lenora, Kansas; Mrs. R. W. Martin from Heath, Montana.

After a honeymoon trip to Monterey, the just-weds returned to their new home in Pomona.

Lombardy Plans Bridge Classes

Sign-up time is here again for lessons in Goren Point Count bridge, being sponsored by Lombardy branch, Children's Hospital of the East Bay.

Mrs. G. William Files, noted bridge authority, will conduct the classes, which are scheduled to start Monday, January 14, at the Fellowship Hall of Orinda Community Church.

The beginners' class will meet from 12:30 to 2 p.m., while the play-of-the-hand for intermediate and advanced players is scheduled from 2:30 to 4 p.m.

The lessons will continue each Monday for 10 weeks.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Calvin Hagstrom, 254-3559.

Good Citizen To Be Honored At DAR Tea

A tea honoring Ann Stone of the San Ramon Valley High School will be held at the home of Mrs. Clyde E. Brown in Danville Tuesday at 1 p.m.

Ann is this year's recipient of the Good Citizens Award, presented annually by the Mt. Diablo chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Arthur M. Brewer will make the presentation.

This will be the first chapter meeting of the new year and a special defense report will be given by Mrs. William E. Lewis. Also on the program will be Mrs. Verle D. Vincent from the Piedmont chapter and state vice chairman of insignia for the DAR.

Mrs. Milton L. Levy of Danville will assist Mrs. Brown with the duties of hostess.

Karin Anna Eklund Weds Scientist

The marriage of Karin Anna Eklund of Orinda to Dr. Donald Eugene Hagge, nuclear physicist at the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory in Berkeley, was announced by Karin's parents this week.

The bride is the daughter of Nils Eklund, president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and vice president of Kaiser Industries, and Mrs. Eklund of No. 1 La Senda Road, Orinda.

Karin is a senior at the University of California in Berkeley. She recently returned after spending her junior year at the University of Stockholm.

The wedding service was performed at the Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church, 401 Grizzly Road, Berkeley, at 4 p.m. Saturday. Relatives and close friends of the couple attended. The Reverend L. I. Torgerson Jr. of the Ascension Lutheran Church of San Francisco, an old friend of Dr. Hagge, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Barbara Bain, a Delta Gamma sorority sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

James H. Clark of Berkeley was best man. Donald R. Schmidt and Wayne Olson, both of Berkeley, were ushers.

The bride wore a short style lace wedding gown of flower lace design with high neck and sloping sleeves, elbow length veil with flowered lace headpiece to match gown and white shoes. She carried a bouquet of white lilies of the valley.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Nils Eklund, wore a turquoise blue Italian sheath with matching shoes. Her hat of flower petal style was in matching blue. She carried a corsage of white butterfly orchids.

The bridegroom is the son of the Ernest A. Hagges of 1798 Walnut Street, Berkeley, and formerly of Williston, North Dakota.

An honor graduate of the University of California, where he received his A.B. in 1958 and his Ph.D. in 1962, he is a Phi Beta Kappa and a member of the Sigma Xi research science and Tau Beta Pi engineering honorary fraternities.

He is the recipient of National Science Foundation and General Electric fellowships.

He has been assigned by the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory to a special project at the Centre D'Etudes Nucleaires De Saclay operated by the French government's Commissariat a L'Energie Atomique near Paris.

The groom's mother chose a peacock blue knit dress with hat and shoes to match, and carried a corsage of white butterfly orchids.

Maid of honor Barbara Bain wore a satin pastel dress with matching shoes and short white gloves. She carried a bouquet of red carnations.

Large white chrysanthemum and white poinsettia featured the decorations for the ceremony.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents in Orinda followed the rites.

The couple departed immediately for a honeymoon in Bermuda. Then they will fly to London, Amsterdam and Hanover and Paris, where they will reside during Dr. Hagge's overseas assignment. The bride is the granddaughter of the Nils O. Eklund Sr. of Portland, Oregon.

Becks Visit His Family

Lt. Comdr. Donald M. Beck USN, his wife and three children, visited his parents, Captain E. Frank Beck USN, retired, and Mrs. Beck, 3555 Brook Street, Lafayette, over the holidays.

Donald and his family returned to Point Mugu after New Years Day.

Brides-Elect Ring in New Year

A quintet of Contra Costa girls rang in the bright New Year Monday night with bright new rings on their third fingers, left hand. Judging by his activity, Daniel Cupid will strike a great many more bulls'-eyes in these parts in 1963.

The first betrothal news of the year to be reported in The Sun concerns the following five young couples:

VIEIRAS-DORCICH
At an open house held by the Linus L. Vieiras of El Toyonal, Orinda, announcement was made of the engagement of their daughter, Susan Irene, to Lois R. Dorcich of Campbell.

Susan attended Oakland and Miramonte High Schools, graduating from the latter with the class of 1961. She was a member of Tanya branch of the Children's Home Society, Bethel No. 222 of Job's Daughters and of Vireo's branch of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

In addition to being a member of the Miramonte High School Band, she was selected from Oakland High School as a cellist for the Northern California All-Honor High School Orchestra for three years and is now studying music at San Jose State, where she met Louis.

Her fiancé is the son of Louis M. and Helen Dorcich of San Jose. He graduated with the class of 1957 from Campbell High School and has been preparing for his degree in architecture at San Jose City College and San Jose State. He is now an architectural designer in Campbell.

They plan on being married next fall.

CANNON-PADILLA
The betrothal of Carol Lynne Cannon to Richard John Padilla was announced at a Christmas tea in Orinda by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cannon, 6 Don Gabriel Way, Orinda.

The romantic news was told also at a family party in Sacramento by the parents of the Benedict-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Claudio Padilla of West Sacramento.

Carol graduated from Miramonte High School and is now a senior at Sacramento State College. She will graduate in June of this year.

Richard is an alumnus of Sacramento State. He is currently employed as a cost analyst at Aerojet in Sacramento.

The young couple are planning to be married September, 1963.

AMBUEHL-SANDBERG
Mr. and Mrs. Elliott P. Ambuehl recently announced the engagement of their daughter, Terry Elaine Ambuehl, to Howard Arthur Sandberg.

Howard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Sandberg. Both families are residents of Lafayette. The bride-elect's parents reside at 1038 Sunnybrook Drive, and the benedict-elect's at 735 Arroyo Court.

Terry graduated from Aca-lanes High School and attended the University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore.

Howard is also an Acalanes graduate and attended Diablo Valley Junior College.

To add even more romantic news to the announcement: the wedding date will be shortly after Valentine's Day, February 16.

It will take place in Zion Lutheran Church, Oakland, with the reception at the Elks Club in Walnut Creek.

INGRIM-TELFER

A champagne toast to the honorees at a family dinner was the way the Ward Drummond Ingrims told of their daughter Mary Ann Ingrim's engagement to Charles Peter Telfer.

In the best romantic tradition, Mary Ann will marry "the boy next door."

The Ingrims reside at 3 Oak Arbor Road, Orinda. Pete, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Telfer, lives next door at 2 Oak Arbor Road.

Mary Ann attended Acalanes and Miramonte High Schools. Upon graduation, she went to Christian College, Columbia, Mo., and then to Dickinson-Warren Secretarial School, Berkeley.

Pete was in the 1959 first graduation class at Miramonte. He went on to Oregon State College and Diablo Valley Junior College.

Mary Ann is a third generation Californian.

Pete has two sisters, Clarinda Telfer, who lives at home, and Mrs. Miles Jacoby of Granville, Ohio.

No date has been set for the wedding.

SANDERSON-CHRISTENSEN
Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Sanderson recently announced the engagement of their daughter, Julie Ann Sanderson, to Ronald G. Christensen.

The Sandersons reside at 829 Reliez Station Road, Lafayette. Ron is the son of Mrs. Clara Christensen, Moraga Road, Lafayette.

Julie is a graduate of Aca-lanes High School. She will graduate from Dana College, Nebraska, this June.

Ron attended San Francisco State College for two years. He is currently attending Dana College and will graduate at the same time as Julie. He plans to go to graduate school at the University of Utah, Salt Lake City.

Julie's brother Doug attends Acalanes, and she has a younger sister, Janell.

The affianced pair plan an August wedding.

Club Plans Busy Agenda

First on the agenda for the activities of the Women's Club of Walnut Creek for the new year is the bridge section, which meets today from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the clubhouse.

Tomorrow night will find the club ladies entertaining their husbands at a potluck dinner party, followed by an evening of whist. Mrs. G. L. Gehlert, chairman of the social section, announced that Mrs. C. M. Conklin, Mrs. H. H. Harmon and Mrs. Ralph G. Spencer will serve as hostesses for the evening.

The regular morning board meeting and afternoon business meeting and tea will be Tuesday at the clubhouse.

The district Indian Affairs chairman has asked the club to help kindergarten children, through young adults, in the district.

Highlight of the month will be the annual Book Breakfast, which will be the 15th under the chairmanship of Mrs. Orin Boslar, with Mrs. Delmar Brussard supervising the dining room.

The program will be a dramatic reading given by Mrs. John A. Foley of Berkeley. Club members and their guests are invited to attend this affair.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Victor Solberg at 935-4780.

A musical program presented by Marie Michael, soprano, will be the entertainment at the annual monthly luncheon January 22. Miss Michael will sing selections from opera and musical comedy. She will be accompanied by Mary Monroe.

The luncheon tables will be decorated with the musical theme by Mrs. Charles Dennis and her committee, the Mesdames Melvin Jory, Robert Nelson and Peter Jarratt. Mrs. George W. Fox is in charge of the program.

Guild Will Install Mrs. Perkins

Mrs. Walton Perkins III of Alamo will be installed as president of Tioga Guild, John Muir Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, at the annual meeting Monday at Mike Lynn's in Orinda.

Also taking office will be Mrs. Robert De Chene, Danville, vice president; Mrs. Robert Brown, Alamo, recording secretary; Mrs. Alfred Jones, Alamo, treasurer, and Mrs. William T. Spencer, Danville, membership chairman.

Mrs. Perkins will succeed Mrs. Sam Burke, who presided over the November meeting, finale of the year.

It was in the Danville home of Mrs. Raymond Neff, with Mrs. Leon Schieder as co-hostess, Mrs. Neff, chairman of the nominating committee, reported the slate for the year ahead. Assisting her on the committee were Mrs. John Becker and Mrs. Robert Yates.

Smith Alumna Is Patron

Planning for the gala opening night performance of "Shakespeare Revisited" is a trio of local young matrons who are Smith College alumnae. The "Program for Two Players" stars Helen Hayes and Maurice Evans.

Mrs. Fortney Stark Jr., 3965 Happy Valley Road, Lafayette, and Mr. Stark are patrons of the big event. Other Smith alumnae busily preparing for opening night are Mrs. Howard Pennington of Lafayette and Mrs. Middleton O'Brien of Orinda.

The program, sponsored by the Bay Area League of Smith College Clubs in honor of its 50th anniversary, will be January 10 at the Masonic Memorial Temple, San Francisco.

Composed of excerpts and scenes from a number of Shakespeare's plays, the Hayes-Evans production was presented to great critical and public acclaim last summer at the American Shakespeare Festival at Stratford, Connecticut.

Miss Hayes' appearance in the Smith College benefit is singularly fitting, as she was awarded an honorary doctor of humanities degree by the college several years ago.

Tickets for the important benefit are suggested for truly unique post-holiday entertaining by Mrs. Stark.

Proceeds from this performance will go to the Mary E. Wilson Scholarship Fund. Named in honor of the former headmistress of the Anna Head School in Berkeley, this fund enables a Bay Area girl to attend Smith.

Mail or phone orders for tickets should be addressed to Mrs. Norman A. Zilber, 3320 Divisadero Street, San Francisco 23.

Mrs. Bates to Be Honored Guest

Mrs. Harold Bates of Moraga, outgoing president of the Auxiliary for John Muir Memorial Hospital, will be an honored guest at the annual luncheon January 14 at Mike Lynn's restaurant, Orinda.

Ski on Slopes, Not Roads: CHP

Motorists planning to travel through mountainous or snow-covered areas were offered a dual reminder by Capt. Edward M. Jelich commander of the California Highway Patrol's mid-county area.

"First, observe all chain control signs. Put chains on when required, and leave them on until an official sign indicates 'End of Chain Control.'"

Second, remember that there is no parking or stopping on freeways—including the shoulder and other portions of the right of way — except in an emergency. Sections of the two most heavily traveled east-west routes through the Sierra—U.S. 40 and U.S. 50—are freeways.

Local Golf Clubs Join in 'Lucky Hole' Competition

Members of eight golf and country clubs of Contra Costa County will participate in the Lucky Hole Contest sponsored by the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults tomorrow and Sunday.

The contest, both for individual members of the golf clubs and an inter-club match, will be held at Round Hill, San Ramon, Antioch, Pittsburg, Richmond, Mira Vista, Vallejo and Silverado golf and country clubs.

A unique hole-in-one competition, individual winners will receive entrance coupons to the Lucky International Golf Tournament, one of the West's most spectacular sports events, to be held at Harding Park in San Francisco from January 23 to 27.

All of the proceeds of the Lucky International go to the Easter Seal societies of the six Bay Area counties to assist the local societies in their services for crippled children and adults. Participation in the Lucky Hole contest can be accomplished during regular play.

Golfers may pay a small entrance fee at the tees of the various par-three holes and shoot to stay on the green. Shots will be measured and distances recorded.

Late Sunday afternoon each club will send a low handicap golfer as challenger to one of the other clubs, where the challenger will make his shot at the contest hole.

New Catholic

Basketball League Set

A new Catholic basketball league for grade school and high school boys has been formed in the central county area.

The Diablo Catholic League will begin operations for the first time next week.

Four central county churches will compete in the seven-team league.

LOCAL TEAMS will be St. Mary's, Walnut Creek; Santa Maria, Orinda; St. Perpetua, Lafayette; and Christ the King, Pleasant Hill.

Other teams are from Pittsburg, Martinez and Benicia.

There will be five grade-level leagues and two high school leagues.

There will be fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades leagues.

Games will be played Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings as well as Saturday afternoons.

Acalanes, Miramonte, Del Valle, Campolindo, Pine Grove (Orinda) and Inland Valley (Orinda) gyms will be used.

Gaels Face UOP Tues.

After bowing in the finals of the West Coast Athletic Conference Christmas Tournament for the third time in four years, St. Mary's College opens WCAC play Tuesday against UOP at the Oakland Auditorium.

The Gaels now have a 6-5 season record.

UOP, having its troubles so far, finished eighth in the tourney. Game time is 8 p.m.

San Jose State edged St. Mary's, 55-51, in the finals last Saturday night.

The Gaels defeated Loyola of Los Angeles and USF to gain the finals.

The Spartans tamed Pepperdine and Santa Clara to reach the championship round.

USF TOOK third place honors in the tourney with an 84-60 win over Santa Clara.

Pepperdine won its last two games, scoring 193 points, to finish fifth.

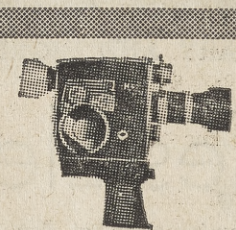

Defensive-minded San Jose held a 30-23 halftime lead over the Gaels.

Forward Steve Gray paced the Gaels to an 83-71 win over Loyola with 29 points.

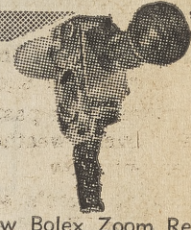

Gray connected for 23 points against the Dons.

Gray had scoring help from Joe Lee who wished eight free throws and wound up with 16 points for his best effort of the season.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 4, 1963

The Ski Line . . .

The Skiers Are Restless; Prep Ski Teams Coming?

By HEC HANCOCK

As we come into the first week end of 1963, the long vigil for a sufficient snowpack for skiing continues.

During the past several months, we've been exposed to just about every weather condition known to man. Everything that is except snow.

Sure, there's some marginal skiing at some of the higher elevations. But don't let anybody kid you. While some of the lifts are operating, conditions leave a great deal to be desired. Except for the real eager types, the available skiing just doesn't warrant the long trek to the mountains. Notice, it's a long trek when we're hurting for snow. It's just an easy spin up and back when there's a pack of several feet.

Snow flurries were reported the first part of the week. However, while this is a step in the right direction, a great deal more help must be forthcoming. Until we get that blockbuster of a storm, the frustrated ski population that has long been primed for action will have to remain grounded.

It's back to the conditioning, men!

Despite the need for snow, there was an exodus of sizeable proportions from the central county area.

Ruth and Pat Freitas of the Camino Pablo faculty journeyed to Mt. Shasta to further their ski careers. Dave Perry, the Acalanes Ski Club prexy, also sampled the joys of the slopes of Mt. Shasta. Bob McCullough, one of the many avid skiers on the Stanley School faculty, tried the skiing in Oregon, and found conditions there just a shade better than on the local scene. Gene Spencer, the Walnut Creek service station mogul, made a wide circuit that included Badger Pass, Heavenly Valley, Alpine Meadows and Squaw Valley in a vain search for skiable snow.

The Del Valle Ski Club, 139 members strong, is preparing for their first ski trip of the year. During the semester break, January 25-27, they will shift their activities to Olympic Village at Squaw Valley. A second trip is planned to the Zephyr Point area of Lake Tahoe for later in the year.

Ron Welton is currently serving as president of this active club. Pat Lowe is vice president and Diane Koses is the secretary-treasurer. Miss Joan Brady is the faculty sponsor for the group.

Under the urging of Dave Scharlach, Del Valle has taken the initiative in attempting to establish some local inter school ski competition. Dave is hoping to be instrumental in establishing a federation of high school clubs along the general lines of the Bay Area Ski Federation. With the formation of such a group, ski meets could then be conducted to climax the high school ski seasons.

Thus far, ski groups at Acalanes, Campolindo and Miramonte have expressed some interest in exploring the possibilities of such an organization. Others to be considered would include Las Lomas, Pleasant Hill, Piedmont and San Ramon.

Since most of the clubs take one or more trips to the ski country, possibly through planning and co-ordination, a week end could be decided upon for a common trip.

It's entirely possible the high schoolers could come up with a winter carnival week end that included a full schedule of activities. Skiing, skating and polkas in the snow country.

FAL Action Begins Tonight—3 Games

Miramonte-Scots Clash At Orinda in Big Game

Play in the Foothill Athletic League begins tonight for six of the seven teams.

All local teams except San Ramon will be opening league play tonight. The Wolves host Antioch in their last non-league encounter tonight.

In a real "big game" tonight, Piedmont, defending FAL champs, invade Miramonte.

The Mats, weak sister last year with a 3-9 record, are 6-1 this year.

Included in a six-game winning streak for the Matadors is the Redwood Empire Invitational basketball title.

THE SCOTS, with three regulars back from last year's team (10-2) have also lost one game to date.

A win tonight for the Orinda quintet would install it as the top threat for the title. The Mats impressed quite a few people by winning the Redwood Empire title.

However, despite a new coach at the helm, the Scots haven't seemed to suffer much by graduation. Their overall height is the best in the league and guard Ned Church offers plenty of leadership.

Tonight's battle should go a long way in determining Piedmont's chances of repeating in 1963.

In other league games, Acalanes is at Alhambra and Las Lomas at Del Valle.

THE DONS and Trojans have both fared well in non-league play.

Del Valle has a 6-1 record while the Dons are 5-2.

The Knights, 3-6, this year, will have to improve quite a bit if they are to equal last year's 9-3 mark. However, their opposition this year probably has been tougher than any other team—except San Ramon (1-5).

The Trojans, last with a 2-10 mark last year, would like to get started on the right foot in 1963—and would like nothing better than to begin with a win over their cross-town rivals.

The Dons should get started with a win over rebuilding Alhambra. The Bulldogs, 3-9 last year, aren't expected to improve much this year.

TUESDAY, the Contra Costa Division moves into action.

Pleasant Hill is at Clayton Valley while College Park hosts Pittsburg, last year's champs.

San Ramon begins FAL play at home against Del Valle, also on Tuesday.

Acalanes and Miramonte clash at Acalanes Tuesday and Las Lomas is at Piedmont.

All are afternoon games.

175 Bucks Are Killed Here

Contra Costa County had 175 bucks reported killed during the regular season this year as compared to 245 last year, the Department of Fish and Game announced.

The average for 1957 to 1961 has been 208 per year.

A final tabulation of the buck kill for 1962 disclosed that 54,909 bucks were taken in 1962 compared to 69,118 in 1961.

'63 All-America Glads Announced

Home gardeners grow flowers for their beauty and the gladiolus enthusiast firmly believes that no other flower has the unlimited beauty of the gladiolus. Its beauty consists not only of an inexhaustible range of color but of many exquisite forms.

There are types of beauty to suit everyone from the plainest to the fanciest. Some varieties have the most elaborate frilling and ruffling imaginable, much more delicate and beautiful than in any other flower.

AND THE flowers range in size from the miniatures to the giants of seven inch diameter held aloft to heights up to six feet. There is no color that the gladiolus cannot supply. Name a favorite combination of size, color, and flower shape, and the gladiolus has it to offer.

This is prelude to the news, just released, that four new gladiolus have earned the 1963 All-America rating. Two of the winners, Frisky and Goldlocks, are miniatures while Morning Sun and Victory are large flowered varieties. All four will attract the envy of even the most critical gladiolus fancier.

Frisky is a lively, frolicsome little glad, fine for exhibition, for cutting or for arrangements. Seven or eight velvety, deep scarlet blooms open at once on a straight, slender spike.

DURING THE time Frisky was tested, it won many flower show awards. This welcome addition to the miniatures, where good glads of the clear deep scarlet color are very scarce, is a creation of Marion C. Rich, Marion, New York. It is his first All-America winner.

Goldlocks is a charming little glad that will enhance your garden, home or any place you'd like to brighten with flowers. Goldlocks has everything you want in a glad—lovely, golden yellow color, beautifully, waxy sculptured form and well-proportioned spikes.

Try it and you'll agree that Goldlocks is as beguiling as its "story-book" namesake! Frisky and Goldlocks bid fare to equal the appeal of the previous All-America miniature introduction, Little Pansy, which was a sell-out the year of introduction and is still going strong.

Ever since its beginning, All-America Gladiolus Selections has been looking for a good yellow, one they could award their coveted approval. Just such a one is Morning Sun! A glorious, bright-as-the-sun deep yellow.

THE COLOR is intense and smooth giving a carved appearance to the beautifully ruffled florets. You'll love Morning Sun's beauty, admire its lusty growth and want lots of it in your garden.

Victory is a vivid, brilliant new scarlet that will call you from afar with its radiance. Lofty spikes of precision-like build follow one another down the row opening their saucer-like glowing scarlet blooms on model spikes. You won't be satisfied to leave all your spikes in the garden for friends and neighbors to admire.

Some will grace your homes and offices, and you exhibition-minded gardeners will want to enter the show competition with this rare find.

THE ALL-AMERICA rating earned by Victory, Goldlocks and Morning Sun brings further recognition to their originator, Carl Fischer, St. Charles, Minnesota, one of America's best known gladiolus hybridizers.

All-America Gladiolus Selections is a non-profit organization that thoroughly tests new originations in trial gardens throughout the United States and Canada, in every type of soil and climate.

Garden CHECK-LIST

PREPARED BY THE CALIFORNIA ASSOCIATION OF NURSERYMEN

1. Plant perennials now for bloom in spring and summer. Delphinium, primroses, coral bells, candytuft, columbine and Shasta daisy are but a few of the many available.

2. Plant bare-root roses this month and start pruning old roses.

3. Be sure to keep Christmas gift plants watered. An occasional airing on the back porch or by an open window will benefit most of them also.

Sun Home and Garden

Nothing Nicer Than Camellias

Among the joys of gardening in California, none is greater than the joy of growing camellias. You could look far and wide without finding a shrub which yields more beauty than this western favorite.

In bloom, the camellia is a picture of perfection. Its blooms are beautiful enough for corsages and plentiful enough for table centerpieces. Moreover, there are varieties that bloom from early fall until late spring, a period of bloom that only roses and few other shrubs can equal.

Out of bloom, the camellia is an important filler for borders and foundations, a glossy, deep green the year around. In recent years, the growing use of Sasanqua varieties has increased the camellia's landscape potential. Thanks to their loose habit of growth, the Sasanas can be espaliered against a fence or even pinned down by stakes to form a cover for some shaded bank.

Hssss—It's a Gusher!

If any of Contra Costa's communities resemble boom-towns, the explosion involved is one of population rather than mineral wealth.

But the booming population is reaping tax benefits from a quiet series of explosions in the east-county area: the sounds of natural gas wells—producing, coming in or being drilled.

The county now has 16 producing wells in two major fields, one north of Concord, the other northwest of Brentwood.

AND THE men and firms who drill these wells, while tight-lipped about the extent or commercial value of the fields, are pouring hundreds of thousands of dollars into more exploration, more drilling.

Within only the last several days three new wells have been started. Many, like one being sunk on the Carey Ranch between Brentwood and Antioch, are deep and costly. Drillers there are still banking on a find, after 8289 feet with no luck.

Others, like the Quale Ranch hole, are finally abandoned after several thousand feet.

But the findings of geologists, the success of other wells, and the high grade of the gas brought in have spurred oil companies on in the highly competitive race.

Over the Christmas holidays, Standard Oil Company discovered a new pool in the Concord area.

This is in addition to a small field discovery in the Concord area several months ago.

The new gasser, Boylan No. 1, finished at 442 feet for a showing reported as being 1,475,000 feet per day.

This new pool sets Concord out as an area where companies are likely to drop the drill into other pools, according to an informed source—and Contra Costa County is one notch near to being an established gas producing district. SHELL, OCCIDENTAL and Brazos oil companies are jointly financing a new well on the Williamson Ranch in the Brentwood Field, site of seven producing wells.

Shell is independently sinking another well on the Reidell Ranch in the same field.

And Occidental Oil Company planned to start drilling a new Oakley Field well on the Burroughs-Turnbull Ranch near Jersey Island this week. The new Occidental well will go down a mile north of a gas well sunk in August on the Machado Ranch.

AND TAXPAYERS who could care less about what goes on in Brentwood or Oakley should cross their fingers while the three drill bits chew earth. Because, while wells are subject to county taxes, they create few additional demands for county or public services.

"Schools use half the tax dollar here," a county official pointed out last week.

"The assessed valuation of producing and selling wells here equals that of only 250 subdivision homes. But no one with school children lives in a gas well," he added. "All that gas is gray."

THE QUIET boom began in 1958 when McCulloch Oil Corporation brought in the first Ginocho well in the Clyde Hills north of Concord.

Later, the same firm drilled four more successful wells, including Duarte No. 1, the biggest well in the state able to supply gas at sustained rates.

Within months and only a mile east in the Willow Pass hills, Trico Oil and Gas Company found three wells.

Another north-east county will come in when Tidewater Oil, a big consumer of gas fuel, struck a producing well beneath its Avon refinery.

THE BRENTWOOD Field, to the south-east is a more recent development. All seven of its wells are a cooperative effort by the Shell-Brazos-Occidental firms.

(Perhaps significantly, the three firms are still cooperating in explorations—in the new Williamson Ranch well—but Shell and Occidental are also drilling independently this week in the Brentwood Field.)

The size of individual wells in the Brentwood Field does not compare with those near Concord, but the field itself is large enough to offer "considerable commercial promise," geologists point out.

Tax benefits from the Brentwood Field are not yet actually being felt by county taxpayers, and won't be until the wells are hooked up with PG&E delivery lines. Ironically, from a consumer's standpoint, all that gas is too much of a good thing.

BEFORE ANYONE knew about Contra Costa's natural gas fields, PG&E couldn't get enough gas here and went to Canada to find more. The utility was already building a multi-billion dollar pipeline to that country, and had signed contracts for large yearly "shipments" of the fuel.

PG&E officials say, however, they have hopes of using more local fuel by broadening the natural gas market through emphasis on more gas appliances, such as air-conditioners.

When the utility does hook up to the Brentwood Field, it can send fuel into delivery lines without processing, due to the high heating value of Contra Costa gas.

While Brentwood is out of the question now for the consumer, there is a possibility that Tidewater will purchase gas from the McCulloch wells.

Its own well beneath the Avon refinery, in use for nine months, has decreased output by almost one-half since it was first tapped, and the firm's new gas-powered isocracker (to be in operation in March) will increase consumption, PG&E officials estimate.

Curtis Takes Speakers' Prize

His part in a panel discussion on the growth of Contra Costa County won Frank Curtis the Diablo Toastmasters' "main speaker's trophy" last week. Curtis, a professional in the housing field, told the Toastmasters that housing values will rise as the population increases.

Groups Join Massive County Campaign For Mental Clinic

A citizens' committee to work with state and county officials on a clinic for the mentally retarded has been proposed, and 17 local organizations have endorsed the establishment of such a center here.

The State Department of Mental Hygiene is now negotiating with this and three other counties which have expressed interest in the proposed center. Competing with Contra Costa are the counties of San Francisco, Los Angeles and Santa Clara.

The multipurpose treatment center, which might be located adjacent to John Muir Hospital (to be completed in 1964) has already won the support of parents', health, welfare and charitable groups, the County Mental Health Association said last week.

The citizens' committee, proposed by the association, includes representatives from nine of these organizations.

A TOTAL of $4.75 million in state bond funds was allocated by the 1962 Legislature for construction of one local center and for planning of two others. The bond funds were provided with the passage of Proposition 1A at the November 6 election.

State mental hygiene director Dr. Daniel Blain said the centers will offer a community-based alternative to state hospitalization, including inpatient services, in the areas where they are located.

"Eventually, centers of this type and other community resources may make it possible for most mentally retarded to receive proper treatment and help near home. As a result, state hospitalization may not be necessary in many cases," Dr. Blain said.

HE REPORTED that the four state hospitals for the retarded are filled to capacity, and there is an admissions waiting list of 2350.

"We will be negotiating with the four counties during the next two or three months," Dr. Blain explained, "to work out details and problems concerning financing, services, operations, site location, and other matters."

He pointed out that in addition to the four counties which formally contacted the department, several other cities and counties have indicated possible future interest in establishing local centers.

WHILE DR. BLAIN was explaining the center to the public, the county was pulling out all stops in an effort to show local need for and public convenience of establishment of the clinic here.

In recently-passed Aesolution 1454, the Board of Supervisors notified the Department of Mental Health that it was "keenly interested" in development and expansion of treatment of the mentally ill and retarded.

An accelerated study of the local mental health situation was requested of the mental health services director and the Mental Health Advisory Board. The advice and assistance of other county officials, concerned community groups and state mental health staff was solicited.

And a report to be submitted, through the board, to the California legislature this year has been authorized. THE COMMITTEE proposed by the local Mental Health Association includes:

Ralph Jarrett, guidance for retarded.

Terry Haws, immediate past president, Council for Retarded of East Contra Costa County, Inc.

Mrs. T. Wilson, We Care and Cerebral Palsy Society.

Francis Burke, Ph. D., County School Department.

L. E. Herman, Neurologically Handicapped Society of Contra Costa County.

H. L. Blum, M.D., county health officer.

Jean E. Neighbor, M.D., professional advisor chairman.

Mrs. Estelle Girande, executive director, Contra Costa County Mental Health Assn.

Richard Sax, executive director, Council of Community Services.

GROUPS SUPPORTING the establishment of the center here were:

Contra Costa County Rehabilitation Council.

Council for Exceptional Children.

Contra Costa County Council of Community Services.

Contra Costa County Mental Health Association.

Contra Costa County School Department.

Contra Costa Cerebral Palsy Society.

Easter Seal Society for Contra Costa County.

TENTATIVE GUIDELINES for the operation of the multipurpose centers have been set up by the state. These guidelines include the following provisions:

WAIT
for
HENDRICK PIANO'S famous
SUNDAY SALE
January 20!

—Each center should serve a population of between 500,000 and one million residing within about a half-hour commuting distance.

—Total caseload of the centers should be about 1000 active patients with a maximum inpatient caseload of approximately 250.

—Each center should provide auxiliary services, in addition to 24-hour inpatient care, including day treatment, outpatient services, parent counseling, and emergency or crisis assistance.

—Inpatient treatment should be primarily for short-term cases. However, up to 20 per cent of inpatient beds could be used for long-term care.

—The centers are to be locally operated, and costs may be partially covered by state funds under the Short-Doyle Act. In the Short-Doyle program, the state pays half the cost of locally operated mental health services. Other financial arrangements may also be developed.

SUN ORIENT HOLIDAY Departing April 18, 1963

APRIL, 1963

THURSDAY, 18, SAN FRANCISCO

Your first day of pleasure begins at 1:30 p.m. when you step aboard a luxurious BOAC Boeing-707 Jet for Honolulu. After a relaxing stop-over, you continue on to Tokyo. A day is lost crossing International Dateline; this is regained on your return trip.

FRIDAY, 19, TOKYO

Our English speaking courier is on hand to meet your plane, assist you through customs and see to your safe arrival at the beautiful New Japan Hotel.

SATURDAY, 20, TOKYO

With a night of good rest, you are ready to start your Japanese adventure. First item of pleasure, a morning tour highlighted by the impressive Imperial Palace Plaza, Meiji Shrine and Outer Garden, traditional tea ceremony, and the Tokyo Tower, world's tallest. This afternoon is yours to wander. This evening we will join together for a welcome dinner at the famous Japanese Restaurant--The Suehiro.

SUNDAY, 21, TOKYO

Tokyo is a bustling place and you will join the exciting tempo of the world's largest city as you spend a free morning on your own. In the afternoon your Pacific Pathways guide takes you to the Korakuen Gardens with their landscaped ponds, Ueno Park--Tokyo's popular recreational center--and the hectic Asakusa Amusement Center and temple. This evening come to a cocktail party hosted by Herman and Eleanor Silverman.

MONDAY, 22, TOKYO-NIKKO-TOKYO

One of Japan's true beauty spots is your destination today as you travel two hours by express train to Nikko. Next you will enjoy a sightseeing tour in Nikko National Park visiting Toshogu Shrine where you will see the sacred bridge, Five Storied Pagoda, Torii Gate and the Sacred Stable of the famed three monkeys who "hear, speak and see no evil." Then proceed to the 330-foot Kegon Waterfall and beautiful Lake Chuzenji. Return to Tokyo this evening and transfer to your hotel.

TUESDAY, 23, TOKYO

The day is at leisure. You can sightsee on your own or spend the day shopping for Japanese silks, Mikimoto pearls, transistor radios, Kokeshi dolls, etc.

WEDNESDAY, 24, TOKYO-MIYANOSHITA

Depart in the morning by motor coach for Kamakura where you will see the Giant Daibutsu, spectacular, 42-foot Bronze Image of Buddha built in 1252.

Then drive to Miyanoshita, a thriving spa, located in the heights of the Fuji-Hakone National Park at the base of towering Mt. Fuji. Continue to the FUJIYA HOTEL. The rest of the day is at leisure to enjoy this hot springs resort surrounded by beautiful scenery, towering mountains with Mt. Fuji in the background and Lake Hakone.

THURSDAY, 25, MIYANOSHITA-ATAMI

Then proceed to Atami--known as the "Honeymoon Village"--a seaside resort on "The Japanese Riviera" where you will stay at the ATAMI FUJIYA INN. A delightful experience staying over night in a Japanese inn.

FRIDAY, 26, ATAMI-KYOTO

In the morning you drive past beautiful forests and lakes to Numazu where you will board an express train for Kyoto arriving that evening and transferring to the KYOTO HOTEL (New Wing).

SATURDAY, 27, KYOTO

You take a long look at the past as you stroll through this ancient capital of Japan (794 to 1868). During a morning tour you visit the fantastic Sanjusangen-do and Kiyomizu Temples and the Heian Shrine. Afternoon at leisure.

SUNDAY, 28, KYOTO-NARA-KYOTO

Just 26 miles to the south of Kyoto, lies Nara, national capital from the year 710 to 784 and the cradle of Japan's arts, crafts, literature and industries. Your visit will be highlighted by a visit to Fushimi Inari Shrine, and Todaiji Temple which houses the great bronze Buddha, Daibutsu. Then to quaint Deer Park and its 400 tame deer. Returning to Kyoto, you will visit the Daigo Samboin Temple and its beautiful garden.

MONDAY, 29, KYOTO

The day is at leisure to roam this historical city or to browse through the shops for fabulous bargains in brocades, lacquer or earthen ware, damascene, etc.

TUESDAY, 30, KYOTO

Morning at leisure. This afternoon you explore Nijo Castle, noted for its gorgeous interior decoration. Then to the old Imperial Palace and the Golden Pavilion of Kinkakuji, whose beautiful garden attests to the artistic life of the nobles in feudal days.

MAY, 1963

WEDNESDAY, 1, KYOTO-OSAKA

This morning you drive for 60 minutes to Osaka and the OSAKA GRAND HOTEL. In the afternoon a tour of Osaka, Japan's second city of nearly three million people, includes the Osaka Castle, Sky Tower for a panoramic view, and the Dotonbori & Shinsaibashi shopping centers.

THURSDAY, 2, OSAKA-TOKYO-HONG KONG

You are aboard your magic carpet again this morning flying to Tokyo and on to Hong Kong. Here is a city so spectacular, picturesque, and fascinating that one never tires of its moving panoramas. Your guide will see you to the IMPERIAL HOTEL. The rest of the afternoon is at leisure for your "first fittings" for suits, dresses and shoes.

FRIDAY, 3, HONG KONG

You will have your first good look at Hong Kong Island today as you cross the ferry from Kowloon for a motor trip. A cable car will take you to the top of Victoria Peak for a panoramic view of the harbor. You will visit the Happy Valley Racecourse, Tiger Balm Gardens, Aw Boon Haw Mansions, and the Aberdeen Fishing Village. Then drive to Pakfulam and back to your hotel. Lunch at the famous Floating Restaurant.

SATURDAY, 4, HONG KONG

Leave this morning to visit Kowloon and the New Territories--a 56-mile drive to the edge of the "Bamboo Curtain"--the border of Red China! See the ancient walled village of Kam Tin, the town of Chi Kok, Typhoon Anchorage, the fantastic floating city where thousands live and die afloat, and finally Shatin Heights where lunch will be served at the hotel with its magnificent view of the Chinese countryside.

SUNDAY, 5, HONG KONG

Morning at leisure. This afternoon journey by launch for two hours around Hong Kong Harbor cruising past the Wanchai waterfront, Royal Yacht Club, Causeway Bay Typhoon shelter with its hundreds of sampans on which Chinese families live, on past the air strip, Stone-cutters' Island, Green Island, Kennedy Town and the old Chinese districts where housing is provided for thousands of refugees from behind the Bamboo Curtain.

MONDAY, 6, HONG KONG

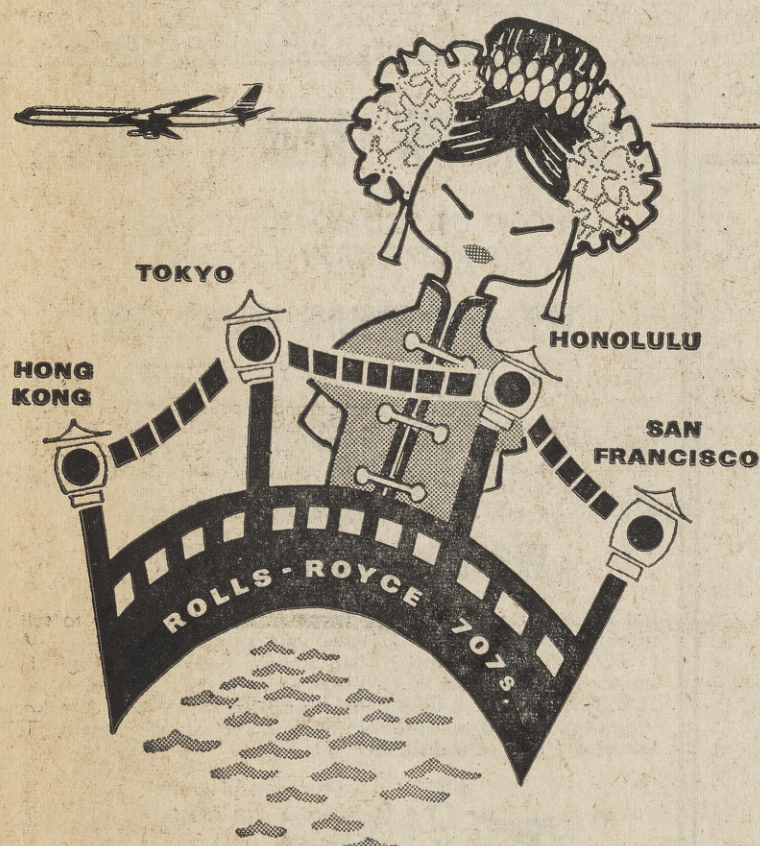

Further day at leisure in Hong Kong for shopping, sightseeing, or relaxing. Or, if you wish, you can take an optional tour of Macao ($28)--departing Sunday evening at 11:30 aboard an overnight steamer and returning late this afternoon. You would see the ruins of the Church of San Paulo, Ahma Temple of Kwan Yuen and the old Fort.

TUESDAY, 7, HONG KONG-SAN FRANCISCO

At leisure to complete your shopping or exploring. Late afternoon transfer to the airport for your flight home. Day gained crossing the International Date Line. (Or on to Manila, Singapore, Bangkok for eight days!)

TOMORROW NEVER COMES
PHONE US TODAY ABOUT LISTING YOUR PROPERTY FOR SALE!
WE SAY WHAT WE'LL DO!
We tell you in advance what price you can expect to get. We don't name an "extra-fancy" price just to get your listing and hope that you'll come down afterwards. We don't promise the moon and later deliver only a handful of stardust. We come down to "brass tacks" right away, and when we say we'll get you $15,000 you can bank on it. It'll be a cold day in July when we tell you $20,000 for a $15,000 home just to get the listing!
WE DO WHAT WE SAY!
Put a "proper price" on your home... that's the way to sell it quickly. Ask for TOO MUCH and you frighten people away! Ask to TOO LITTLE and before you know it, it's been grabbed off by someone who re-sells it later for a big profit. There's no SUBSTITUTE FOR EXPERIENCE in selling Real Estate. Where Your Easter Seal Donations Went: Report

An increase in services to crippled children and adults in Contra Costa County was reported last week by the Easter Seal Society of Contra Costa County.

Mrs. Ardis Loonie, executive director, said 240 persons were provided with rehabilitation services during the past year. Of the total, 138 were children.

Working under the supervision of the Medical-Professional Advisory Council headed by Dr. Ray Poindexter, the Contra Costa County Easter Seal affiliate offered vocational rehabilitation, social service, recreation, summer camping, and equipment loan closet services to crippled persons.

LAST SUMMER the society, in co-sponsorship with the Cerebral Palsy Society of West Contra Costa County participated in an evaluation program for four multiple handicapped young persons.

The four young adults, pupils of Cameron School, are now attending Easter Seal workshop sessions one school day per week.

Programs for parents of handicapped children were given greater emphasis during the year, the executive director said. A six weeks course on vocational needs of the handicapped was offered to parents, and consultation services were given to parent groups planning parent education programs.

A training course was provided for teenagers who volunteered baby sitting service for handicapped children. Registration of parents requiring baby sitter services has been coordinated through the Contra Costa County Easter Seal Society.

IN AUGUST the Easter Seal Society sponsored the formation of the parent group information exchange council. Currently, the society counsels groups of parents of multiple handicapped children.

Support for services of the Easter Seal Society of Contra Costa County comes largely from contributions made during the annual Easter Seal appeal.

1962 campaign receipts were $23,511.00, most of which was used to help crippled children and adults of Contra Costa County.

Some funds raised in Contra Costa County are earmarked for research into causes of crippling and improved methods of rehabilitating handicapped persons.

The research program is administered by the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults—the Easter Seal Society—at headquarters in Chicago.
